ASSOCIATED STUDENTS, SAN DIEGO STATE COLLEGE
DEDICATION

T HIS year's issue of Del Sudoeste is dedicated to Dr. E. L. Hardy, on the completion of his twenty-fifth year as president of San Diego State College.

With so many plans for the future of the college under way, and with new opportunities for the advancement in buildings, in curriculum, in activities, and in spirit, it is fitting at this time to remember the man who has done so much to further the expansion of the school. Many of the steps forward that the college will take in the future will be the result of his efforts, so that it is with sincerest appreciation for his work that the Associated Students dedicate Del Sudoeste, 1935, to him.

FOREWORD

IN THE BELIEF that the welfare of State College and the area which it serves are one, Del Sudoeste, 1935, attempts to portray in its pages the atmosphere, the exquisite setting, and extensive exhibits of the Southwest's great California Pacific International Exposition.

As Dr. Hardy completes his twenty-fifth year as President, he can look back upon a full career during which he has seen the college grow, move to the present campus, and include a liberal arts course in its curriculum. His tolerance, progressiveness, and persistence in presenting the needs of the college have made this growth possible.

Mr. Irving Outcalt has served as vice president of the college since 1912. By also serving as head of the English department, he has combined the administrative and intellectual duties of a college faculty member.

Mr. Outcalt’s interest in the progress of the college, his active participation in the literary field, and his attempts to place the cultural interests of the college on their highest plane have won for him the admiration of the student body.
Academic Deans

STATE's present position in the field of progressive schools of education is largely due to the efforts of Dean of Education Jesse W. Ault.

Besides his administrative duties Dean Ault conducts several classes and serves as adviser and counsellor for all students majoring in education.

His keen desire to keep abreast of the times in education and to secure employment for students have made Dean A. G. Peterson one of the best informed and best liked members of the college faculty.

In addition to his administrative duties as Dean of Liberal Arts, he is Professor of Economics and ex-officio in charge of the lower division of the college.

Social Deans

Women of the college have found in Dean Mary McMullen a sympathetic adviser, interested in the problems of each student and seeking to make each active in campus life. Her charm and personality have endeared her to the women on the campus.

Dean C. E. Peterson, in classes and extra-curricular activities, has endeavored to foster in as many of the college students as possible that interest in campus spirit that is so necessary to the life of any college. His additional work as track coach and his participation in men's activities have given him an even closer contact with the men of the campus.
Cramer Memorial

In memory of Mr. J. Grant Cramer, late professor of German at State College, his interest in his work and in his students, his widow, Mrs. Miriam Cramer has donated a fund for the pergola and fountain which have been erected near Scripps Cottage.
Senior Class

Merle Corrin

ALTHOUGH inactive for the greater part of the year, the seniors plan to end their four years of college life with a series of events during Senior Week.

The program for the week begins with the Junior-Senior Prom on June 8, followed by Baccalaureate Day services under the direction of Cap and Gown on June 9. Other events scheduled, in addition to the commencement exercises, are a senior assembly arranged by Albert Bradt, Phyllis Barker, and John Frazer, presentation of a senior memorial, and a banquet following commencement.

Officers are: Merle Corrin, president; Mary Couvrette, vice-president; Nona Straughn, secretary; Dan Showley, treasurer; Lois Lee, women's athletic representative; Bernard Carnan, men's athletic representative.

THE trend toward class activities, which received an impetus this year, was featured by the junior class which held regular meetings during the year, raised money by means of dues cards, and planned two definite projects, one for the fall, the other for the spring.

For the fall activity, the class held a picnic at El Monte Park. Food was purchased through the proceeds from the dues cards. Planned athletic contests and a hike to El Capitan Dam filled the day's program.

The class combined with the seniors for the spring project, a junior-senior prom, planned and executed by members of both classes.

Sophomore Class

Women of the class, together with junior women, combined to form Cetea, an honorary service group, organized primarily to acquaint freshman women with campus activities.

Officers were: Kenneth Ray, president; Doris Gledhill, vice-president; Louise Dornberger, secretary; Bob Wilson, treasurer; Gwen Pate, women's athletic representative; and Harry Garfield, men's athletic representative.

Freshman Class

COMPRISING more than a third of the student body, members of the freshman class this year endeavored to revive interest in and set up a definite program of class activities.

Following a challenge to the entire student body on the promise to sell more football season tickets than any other class, the group accomplished its purpose. Continuing their activities, freshmen made two trips up to Black Mountain to rejuvenate the "S."

An innovation was the introduction of ten-cent dances held at frequent intervals. The series culminated in a dance February 15 honoring the freshman football team and the sophomore class.

Class officers were: Bill Koller, president; Gerald Steimke, vice-president; Helen Eastman, secretary; Aileen James and Russell Alkire, treasurer; Bertha Powelson and Jane Grant, women's athletic representative; and Ralph Finnerty and Bill Buehlman, men's athletic representative.
FURTHERING its three-fold program, cooperating with the college administration and student body, securing San Diego's support and recognition for the college, and stimulating the alumni organization itself, the Alumni Association can point to many accomplishments.

Outstanding events in the year's program were the Homecoming luncheon before the Whittier football game, the drive for regional status of the college, and the presentation of the medallion of Dr. Hardy by Donal Horde at the annual meeting and Homecoming Banquet.

Officers for the year were: Terence B. Geddis, president; Virginia Place Culver, first vice-president; Jeannette Van Den Akker, second vice-president; Ann Powell, corresponding secretary; Mary Ethyl Lane, recording secretary; Carl Esenoff, treasurer. Other board members were: Richmond Barbour, Spencer Rogers, Merle Corrin, Lawrence Carr, Robley Veall, Sue Wolfer Earnest, and Ronald Millar.
Federal Building
the one permanent office in the student body, that of Graduate Manager, has been capably filled since 1928 by Alvin Morrison who prepares the student body budget, and supervises the business arrangements of all student body activities. In addition, he is manager of the Aztec Shops, Ltd., a non-profit corporation which operates both the bookstore and the cafe.

Reduction of certain budget items has caused criticism of the graduate manager, but critics agreed that Morrison's administration of finances was motivated by an interest in student body affairs and a desire to arrange activities for the good of the school as a whole.

Beginning his administrative duties early in the summer before the school year opened, Jack Rand, student body president, called meetings of the student council and delegated to committee heads, and an executive committee certain responsibilities. While engaging in long football and track seasons, Rand actively conducted the affairs of his office, presiding over assemblies, student council meetings, and serving as a member of the finance board and other committees.
Student Officers

STUDENT body administrative officers, Abbie Johnson, Barbara Freeman, and J. R. Rainwater aided by coordinating their duties as student council members and their administrative functions.

As vice president of the Associated Students, Abbie Johnson filled the position of official hostess of the student body. In that capacity she served on the committee in charge of arrangements for the two semiannual freshman receptions held in October and February. In administrative duties, she also served on the executive committee and on the student council.

Another member of the administration, Barbara Freeman, secretary, served to issue notices for and about the student council as well as recording the minutes of the meetings. She also served on the council and the executive committee.

J. R. Rainwater this year served as commissioner of finance. Working in conjunction with the finance board, he was able to adjust budget needs to fit the needs of the student body activities and represented the Finance Board at student council meetings.

Two major student body problems as well as a number of minor difficulties were acted upon in an harmonious and business-like manner by the Student Council this year.

Faced with agitation for a smaller council in the belief that such a body would function more smoothly and more swiftly, the council after long discussion prepared an amendment to the Associated Students constitution which would have reduced the council from sixteen members to five, the finance board from five to three, and made the commissioner of finance an appointive position. The measure failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote of the students, however.

In the spring the council approved two systems for recognizing long and outstanding service in extra-curricular activities, one providing for the pictures of those prominent in student body activities to be hung in the Aztec Hall of Fame, and the other providing awards for steady and unusual service in the fields of music, drama, journalism, government, and athletics.
BECAUSE of increased football expenditures, due to a large number of injuries and additional coaching, and a desire to maintain a large cash balance with which to begin next year's activities, the increased revenue from athletics did not permit the Finance Board to appropriate more money for student body activities.

After meetings in the fall semester to consider and make minor readjustments in the tentative budget presented by the Graduate Manager, the Finance Board met infrequently, convening only when additional readjustments in the budget, or a general survey of the financial condition of the Associated Students were necessary.

J. R. Rainwater, commissioner of finance, presided at meetings of the Finance Board, which consisted of Alvin Morrison, graduate manager; O. W. Baird, faculty representative; Jack Rand, student body president; and Jerry Edwards and Dan Showley.

MANY interesting programs were offered the students this year, through the efforts of two assembly committees—faculty and student—which arranged alternating programs either in the little theater or in the gymnasium.

Student assemblies featured rallies, discussions, and student and outside entertainment, ranging from a discussion of regional status to a program of magic put on by Captain Jones.

Alternating with student assemblies, the faculty committee brought to the school out-of-town lecturers to speak on world affairs. Dr. W. F. Adams of U.C.L.A. was the first speaker in the series, with Francis Lederer, Dr. Ethan Colton, and Baron Gabor de Besseney following.

John Frazer headed the student committee, assisted by Margery Lippincott, Ruth Ann Lyons, and George Putnam. The faculty committee consisted of Dean Mary McMullen, chairman; Mrs. Marion Sonoor; and Dr. Lewis B. Lesley.
Rally Committee, Yell Leaders

With renewed vigor, the rally committee, with Bill Tinker, yell leader and his staff, planned new entertainments during the football season. Before the University of Arizona game, a send-off for the team was arranged.

One of the most important events of the football season was the extended entertainment, including a banquet and dance, in honor of the Occidental rooters who attended the San Diego-Oxy football game.

Bob Peterson was head of the committee, other members of which included Art Clarkson, Don Clarkson, Martha Phillips, and Tinker.

Assistant yell leaders were: Don Gow, Jack Boynton, Delbert Cole, Abie Mix, and Moto Asakawa.
Del Sudoeste

In the belief that whatever the college contributes to the development of the great Southwest will react to the benefit of the college itself, Del Sudoeste, 1935, has selected as its theme the California Pacific International Exposition.

Art work throughout the book, embodied in division pages, subdivision pages, cover, and borders, carries out the motif, noting that the various sections of the Exposition and phases of college life parallel each other.

In the development of the motif the school colors of scarlet and black are used throughout the book.

The attempt has been to portray both the Exposition and the college accurately, giving adequate but not superfluous space to all deserving activities. Where changes of the type of content or condensation of material over previous editions have been considered advisable, such changes have been made with the consent of the director of activity.

Wherever possible, pictures have been used to tell the story, reading material being held to a minimum.

In the face of rising prices in college annual production, a slightly increased budget has permitted Del Sudoeste, 1935, three important improvements over Del Sudoeste, 1934: cooper, rather than zinc engravings; fabrikoid covers, and heavier paper stock.

Three of the four major phases of annual production, photography, engraving, and printing have been completed by San Diego business concerns, who have made this book their project.
THE AZTEC, campus weekly, this year endeavored not only to present news of interest to the college in a novel and interesting manner but also to comment on the news in challenging editorials.

Attacking the form of student body government as inefficient, the weekly was instrumental in forcing the Student Council to prepare changes in the student body constitution for submission to the students.

In its other editorials, The Aztec served as a spokesman for liberalism and a booster for student body affairs.

The paper profited from criticisms received in two national competitions, one sponsored by the National Press Association and the other by the Columbia Press Association. In both contests The Aztec was awarded first class rating.

Members of the staff also benefited from ideas exchanged at two Southern California Press Association conferences, one held at Pomona College during the fall semester and the other at the University of Redlands in the spring.

Revising the positions of her staff, Editor Nona Straughn appointed two copy editors, Riva Bresler and Dorothy Tanck, to supervise the writing and editing of copy for the first page, which formerly was the work of the news editor. Jack Benton served as sports editor for the third year.

Ransom Eng and Alfred Alexander, and Jennette O'Keefe and Betty Averill served as literary and society editors for the fall and spring semesters, respectively.

Columns received especial emphasis, with Jim Fletcher's "Meditations of a Freshman" providing many an undergraduate laugh, while Witchellish "Something Important" and Woolcottish "Nothing Important" were read with avid interest.
Two college publications were continued this year with the publishing of the freshman handbook and the issuing of the football magazine, "The End Zone."

The handbook this year was issued by Oceotl, sophomore men's service fraternity. Revision of items, a new arrangement of articles, and pictures of administrative officers were features of this book, the first new edition to appear for several years. The staff included: Bob Wilson, editor; William Hughes, student activities; Robert Duncan, organizations; Kenneth Ray, and Harl Tyler, athletics.

"The End Zone" containing information about games and players was sold at all home football games. Bright covers made the issues particularly attractive. Jack Benton, sports editor of The Aztec, edited the magazine, assisted by Maurice Savage.

The End Zone, Handbook

El Palenque

_E L PALENQUE_, campus magazine, this year definitely took a stand against being labeled a "high-brow" publication, by adopting a popular policy.

To further interest in the magazine, the price of each issue was reduced from fifteen cents, the cost during the previous year, to five cents; and the content of the book was designed to appeal to a varied number of tastes.

The first issue featured a three-part mystery-satire, "Murder on the Campus," while the second issue contained words and music of several college songs. Both issues contained contest material, an essay contest being conducted in the fall, and a short-story competition in the spring.

Members of the staff were Clara Bollo and Lois Lee, co-editors; Riva Bresler, make-up editor; Janet Branin, book review editor; Elizabeth Harrington, contest editor; Perry Louise Ransone, Leonard Messer, and Alfred Alexander, members of the editorial board. John R. Adams was faculty adviser.

ONE evidence of the development of the college and its growth in importance in the community was reflected this year in the establishment of the college publicity and news bureau.

The bureau was established in September, with Charles Byrne, a student with several year's newspaper experience as a member of the staff of the San Diego Union, as director. Operating expenses are met by student funds, as the bureau is allotted a percentage of the yearly dues. The publicity office is located in the gym.

The chief purpose of the publicity bureau has been to cooperate with the local daily and weekly newspapers in keeping the public informed on all college activities. In the field of athletics, however, the activities of the bureau were expanded to include the sending of periodical sport newletters to all newspapers and colleges throughout Southern California and Southern Arizona, and in furnishing special publicity material to newspapers in cities where State College teams and individuals were competing. Another service has been to furnish accounts of accomplishments of outstanding out-of-town students to "home-town" newspapers.

Although starting from "scratch," without precedent or equipment other than a typewriter, the publicity bureau's efforts have resulted in a noticeable increase in column-inch space devoted to college news and photographs in local newspapers.
Men's Glee Club

In its many appearances before downtown clubs, school assemblies, in college productions, on the campus, over the radio, and at the Pacific Southwest Inter-collegiate Glee Club contest, the Men's Glee Club has publicized the college and won recognition for itself.

In publicizing the college the club presented programs for the most of the downtown business men's clubs, for the students of Point Loma High School and Woodrow Wilson Junior High, and for many of the Aztec broadcasts.

On the campus the club has been presented at assemblies, rallies, the Christmas concert, Open House, at the stadium dedication ceremonies, and commencement. The male choruses of "The Desert Song" were composed of members of the club.

Fourth place was won by the club at the glee club contest held this year at Santa Barbara.

Officers are: Bill McClintock, president; Robert Fisher, vice-president; Robert Hamilton, treasurer; Harold Ferguson, librarian; and Mr. Fred Beidleman, director.

Treble Clef

Treble Clef, women's glee club, experienced a busy season during the college year, making numerous appearances both in and out of the city.

Important among the engagements of the group were an appearance at the Church of New Jerusalem, a program in El Centro, and a special entertainment for the State College Sponsors' Club. The club also appeared on the music department's Christmas program, and with the orchestra in a Columbia network broadcast. Choruses for the operetta were taken from the club. In addition the club took a prominent part in the Founders' Day and stadium dedication exercises and sang on a number of Aztec Half-Hour broadcasts over KFSD.

Appearing at the all-Southern California glee club conference at Santa Barbara, Treble Clef received fourth place.

Officers of the club were: Catherine Santer, president; Marjorie Stoe, vice-president; Viola Vogt, secretary; Hazel Scofield, treasurer; Gertrude Tyler, librarian; and Miss L. Deborah Smith, director.
CONTINUING the tradition of an annual operetta, the music department went further afield to produce Sigmund Romberg’s musical comedy, "The Desert Song" May 15 at the Russ Auditorium.

Laid in Morocco, the production provided romantic and adventurous action and picturesque background with its story of the Red Shadow, the romantic ward of the governor, and the governor’s supposedly timid son. Costumes borrowed from Fanchon and Marco added color, while the stage sets provided something new for college audiences. Both glee clubs, appearing in choruses, added marching and dancing to their duties of singing and selected members of the orchestra formed the orchestra for the performance.

John Tyers as the timid Pierre who at a moment could turn to the romantic Red Shadow, played the male lead, with June Bowler opposite him as Margot. Others cast in leading parts included Ashleigh McIntosh, Don Coker, Bill McClinton, Virginia Lee Porter, Phyllis Barker, Ruth Heller, Ruth Bradley, Catherine Santer, Charles Taylor, Paul Livingston, Merle Krulish, Bruce Van Buskirk, William Weimer, Abe Mix, and David Fenn.

French girls, Spanish cabaret girls, and soldiers’ wives were the following members of the Treble Clef Club: Nancy Baker, Mary Jane Beeler, Beth Fox, Emeline Crane, Edna Drescher, Lois Franklin, Lauretta Fulkerson, Leona Jenkins, Mildred Maxey, Jean Moore, Virginia Rush, Catherine Santer, Hazel Scofield, Jean Smith, Marjorie Stose, and Dorothy Warner. The dancing girls were: Elsa Rieper, Gertrude Tyler, Helen Shively, Virginia Morrison, Florence York, Margarette Cheney, and Asleen Crandall.

Selected members of the college orchestra who participated were: William Baker, Mildred Barney, Margaret Capps, Ward Collier, Dorothy Eastin, James Fisher, Gladys Fleiss, Kathleen Fryhofer, Robert Hamilton, Freeman Hom, Frank Losey, Anna Martin, Helen Meredenhall, Allan Morrison, De Witt Myn- tinger, Edward Ortiz, Jr., Ruby Peters, Lucy Schatzel, Irene Silver, George Sorenson, Susan Spafford, Jean Taylor, Viola Vogt, and Mary Wilcox.

The production staff included: musical directors, L. Deborah Smith, Fred Beidleman; dramatic director, Marjory Davis; art director, Fred Chilcott; dancing, Ralph Thompson, Jr.; costumes, Margaret Standish, June Draper; properties and make-up, Albert Bratke, Wm. de Lanoy; stage manager and electrician, Robert Worthington; publicity, Catherine Santer, Ruth Bradley; and business manager, Alvin Morrison.
Orchestra

The college orchestra did much to keep the musical activities of the college in the minds of San Diegans. Concerts over the Aztec Half-Hour and on Open House Day programs were only two of the many programs presented.

On December 12, the orchestra combined with the glee clubs to present the annual Christmas concert offered by the music department at Roosevelt Auditorium. In the spring, the group played over the Columbia Broadcasting System, as one of a series of concerts for the California Western School of Music Conference.

The orchestra sent 17 of its members to the All-Southern California Symphony Orchestra at Santa Barbara, under the baton of Henry Eichheim. A surprise feature of the concert was the presence of Leopold Stokowski, conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, who conducted one number.

Officers are: Lucy Schatzel, president; Leonora Jenkins, vice-president; Harold Ferguson, secretary; Paul Livingston, treasurer, and Mr. Fred Beidleman, director.
Theater Guild

MADE up of students in all drama classes, the Theater Guild supervises all dramatic productions of the college. It is governed by an executive board, consisting of four officers and two representatives from each of the drama classes.

Chief among the projects is the annual one-act play tournament, this year presented December 12. Acting awards this year were won by Olive Hockaday for her performance in the junior tragedy, "Poor Maddelena," and Selma Young, who appeared in the sophomore comedy, "The Same Old Thing." Directing cups went to Anna Just for the freshman tragedy, "The Death Call," and to Albert Sanders for the freshman comedy, "Villa for Sale."

Officers of the Theater Guild are: Al Bradt, president; Lucille Knowles, vice president; Selma Young, secretary; Bill de Lannoy, treasurer.

"Rip Van Winkle"

FOR THE seventh annual revival play, the drama department presented "Rip van Winkle" on February 21 and 22. Adapted from the Washington Irving's short story, the play described Rip's trials at the hands of his nagging wife, his meeting with the dwarfs in the Catskills, and his return after a twenty year nap.

To provide parts for more students, the play was double-cast, one person playing a part in the 1763 setting and another portraying the role in 1783 on Rip's return.

Comment was evoked by the fantastic mountain scene in the second act, depicting Henrik Hudson and his ghostly crew playing bowls and drinking in their mountain haunts. In contrast to the fantasy of this scene, the rest of the play stressed the comic and melodramic fields, emulating the drama of years past.

One of the most important actors in the cast was Perro Bonito Taylor, a police dog, appearing as Schneider, Rip's dog and faithful friend.

Charles Taylor and Al Bradt alternated as Rip, with Anna Just as Dame van Winkle, and John Dirks, Al Herney, Hubert Dale and Lucille Knowles cast in other important roles.
"And Let Who Will Be Clever"

IN PLACE of separate freshman and sophomore plays this year, members of the lower division drama class produced Alden Nash’s comedy, "And Let Who Will Be Clever" as a combined lower division play, April 25 and 26.

The story deals with the advent of a country cousin into a wild and worried family. Taking as her motto, "Be good, sweet maid, and let who will be clever," she straightens out affairs for most of the family as well as for herself.

A harassed mother, an eccentric grandmother, a spoiled daughter, a millionaire, and a crowd of young college people were important members of the cast. Costume requirements necessitated several actors to appear in bathing suits.

Clever lines and unusual situations added to the interest in the play. An added source of attraction was the fact that the story had been recently filmed under the title of "We’re Rich Again."

Selma Young and Valeda Sickels alternating as the mother of the family; Jane Wells and Helen Clark as the young cousin; Hubert Dale, Kenneth Brown, and Robert Veenker played other leading parts in the play.

"Twelfth Night"

IN ACCORDANCE with the annual custom of presenting a Shakespearean play, the comedy "Twelfth Night" closed the college dramatic season, with performances May 23 and 24. This production was an all-student body affair, being cast from try-outs among all students wishing to take part.

"Twelfth Night" combines a mistaken identity plot with a romantic story and comedy scenes by typically Shakespearean characters.

A system of levels was used to facilitate scene changes, in many cases action being continuous from one level to another. Strolling singers and an instrumental group provided Elizabethan music during the action and between acts.

The main emphasis in production was in securing the natural simplicity of Elizabethan drama in general, combined with the cheerful good-fellowship of this play in particular.

Lucille Knowles and Albert Henney appeared as the twins, Viola and Sebastian, with Alfred Alexander, Bill de Lannoy, Bill Whitney, Frances Vosburgh, Olive Hockaday, and Evangeline Gerwig cast in other important roles.
Debate

DEBATERS of the college used the question of Phi Kappa Delta, national forensic fraternity, in all the debates in which they engaged this year.

This question—Resolved: that the nations of the world should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions—formed the basis of several important engagements in the city and out.

Important inter-team debates were given April 25 at the San Diego Club and May 9 before the Kiwanis Club.

Members of the team, all of whom are returning next year, were: Miss Carpenter, Wahrenbrock, Bill Koller, Ernest Hom, Mary Eleanor Meredith, Gerald Steimke, and Larry Lydick; alternate and manager. Mr. Paul Pfaff coached the team.
House of Charm
WITH an ever-widening range of activities, the Women's Governmental Association has again carried through an interesting program for women students.

In addition to the two-fold aim of connecting and supporting all women's activities on the campus, it has during the past year, accepted the responsibility of helping new students to become oriented to college life and of encouraging all women to take active parts in campus affairs.

This year's calendar has been full. The first event was an open house for all freshmen, held during freshman registration in Scripps Cottage. At this time the freshmen and upper-class members were given the opportunity to become acquainted.

Second in the list of events was a dinner honoring non-resident men and women. In this the W. G. A. board was assisted by members of Blue Key and Cap and Gown. In October out-of-town women were again feted at a dinner, given in Scripps Cottage, at which Dean McMullen and the board of members served as hostesses.

In February an important piece of work was done by the W. G. A.—the sponsoring of the organization of Cetza, honorary sophomore and junior women's sorority. This group has for its main purpose sponsoring of freshmen women.

The annual W. G. A. formal banquet opened the spring semester's activities. This affair was held at the San Diego Hotel.

An unusual and interesting program was offered women students in the W. G. A. assembly, held in March. Mrs. Charles Korander reviewed the book "Skin Deep," giving many interesting facts about cosmetics.

As a climax for the year’s social activities, the “Feminine Frolics” was held early in May. Guests included not only campus women, but also the alumni. Of great interest was the treasure hunt sponsored in the afternoon by Cetza. After an informal dinner served in the quad, skits were presented by various women’s organizations of the campus, in competition. The cup for the most amusing skit this year went to Alpha Sigma Alpha.

Officers for the year were: Helen Lu Magee, president; Martha Lou Phillips, vice-president; Betty Bell, secretary; and Phyllis Barker, treasurer. Committee chairmen were: Jennette O’Keefe, publicity; Marian Stooke and Marjorie Stose, program; Margery Lippincott, Scripps Cottage; and Helen Clark, social. Women’s organizations representatives were: Thea Carlson, Y. W. C. A.; Margaret Standish, Inter-sorority Council; Jessie Kelly, W. A. A.; and Jean Moore, out-of-town girls.
teams were used, supper, and entertainment. All of the women's organizations of the campus cooperated in making the day a successful one. Members of Cetza conducted the tours, Cap and Gown and W. G. A. board members served as hostesses, and two women from each sorority helped serve.

The sectional conference of the Athletic Federation of College Women, of which the local W. A. A. is a unit, was held on April 5 and 6 at Mills College. San Diego State was represented by Jessie Kelly, president, and Janet Franklin, president-elect.

In the discussions of problems and opportunities apparent in the field of athletics for college women, the main interest centered about recreational activities. The programs were extremely interesting, including demonstrations by Helene Mayer, Olympic fencing champion, and other people noted in the sports world.

W. A. A. officials during the past year have been Jessie Kelly, president; Dolores Swoboda, vice-president; Janet Franklin, secretary; Dorothy Armstrong, treasurer; Elaine Brown, recording secretary; and Jessie R. Tanner, faculty adviser.

Women's Athletic Association

SPONSORING of physical and social activities on the campus is the main purpose of the Women's Athletic Association, and in this capacity it has proved even more successful this year than in years past.

The event of primary importance was the College Play Day, which took place on January 17. At this time senior girls from all high schools in the city and county were invited as guests, as well as the college women.

The program for the afternoon and evening included a tour of the campus, sports in which mixed color
Women's Sports

Among the sports offered for women students, swimming has retained its first place, both in interest and in the number of women participating.

The "Water Frolic," an inter-sorority-non-sorority swimming meet held in January, was received with keen enthusiasm. Classes were divided into those for beginners and those for advanced swimmers. The standard life saving test was given at the end of each semester, and those passing the test were awarded Red Cross certificates.

Archery, which also showed a great increase in the number of women participating, was again under the direction of Miss Florence Shafer. The range for beginners is from twenty to thirty yards, while advanced archers strive for the Columbia Round average, fifty yards, and that of the National Round, sixty yards.

Golf, also, has drawn an increasing number of co-eds. After a short trial of the turfed field behind the physical education building, it was decided to return to the Emerald Hills green. John Bellante again acted as coach.

Recreational Activities

The primary emphasis has been placed this year on recreational games for women students. The physical education department, recognizing the need for such activities in the lives of college women, has made possible a wide variety which have been accepted with great enthusiasm.

Foremost in interest among the recreational games was ping pong. At any time during the day one could find these tables in use.

Paddle tennis, although used primarily as a part of class work to teach the fundamentals of tennis, has also held its place as a recreational activity. Deck tennis, however, has not received an equal share of attention, since it is so nearly related to tennis.

Due to a delay in the procuring of equipment for shuffle board, the game was not set up until the latter part of the spring semester. By the end of the semester, however, two courts in the activity room had achieved a growing popularity.

A ladder tournament culminated a successful year of badminton. The finals of this contest, which was open to all women, were held the last of May.
Another important contribution that the W. A. A. has made this year to the recreational life of college men and women has been the Play Nights, introduced early in May. These Play Nights, or "Jolly-Ups," were held in the women's section of the physical education building, and included fun relays, unusual games of all kinds, and dancing, with a supper served afterward. The social committee of the A. S. B. cooperated with the W. A. A. in this project.

The drive of the year by the W. A. A. has been upon recreational activities and intra-mural sports, with Miss Florence Shafer acting in the capacity of coach. Badminton and tennis tournaments and a swimming meet, the "Water Frolic," were included on the list of interesting events sponsored by the association. A "Hockey Meet" was held in November, in which two teams of women players from the National Field Hockey Association gave demonstration games.

Altogether the drive on the recreational activities met with great success. The games were introduced in the regular classes, and ample opportunity was given playing at other times.

With the completion of the courts, tennis has become one of the popular campus sports. Stroke technique has been taught as part of class work by Miss Florence Shafer. A doubles tournament sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association climaxed the year. In tennis, competitions were held for sorority and non-sorority girls, after which the winners of each group played. For the first time, a cup was awarded the final winners by the W. A. A.

Seasonal sports which found favor included hockey, volleyball, basketball, speedball, and baseball. They were offered not only as part of class work, but also for credit toward the W. A. A. participation award.

GOVERNMENT

One hundred three freshmen men, was held early in October, with a program of entertainment and refreshments. This time the entertainment took the form of athletic events, including wrestling and boxing bouts and Japanese fencing, which consists of the earnest endeavor of the two contestants to strike each other with bamboo poles. The high point of the program was a boxing exhibition by Lee Ramage, professional heavyweight and title contender.

Both semesters the A. M. S. presented a radio program. In the fall the program was designed to present to San Diegans the scope of men's organizations on the campus. The spring program featured the attractions which the college offers to prospective students.

The fifth annual barbecue, traditionally the A. M. S.'s number one event to which high school seniors throughout the county are invited, was held early in April. A large crowd, both of students and visitors attended, a half day program being arranged for the visiting high school seniors. Campus tours, a sample lecture, a track meet, dinner and a varied program of entertainment in the gymnasium served to acquaint the guests thoroughly with the campus.

In addition the organization sponsored several after-game dances, presented Advisory Coach Bill Quigley with a gift, and honored the football team and Coach Leo Calland at dinners.

Officers for the year were: Don Clarkson, president; John Butler, vice-president; Robert Duncan, secretary; Jack Benson, treasurer; and Dean C. E. Peterson, faculty adviser.

The following A. M. S. awards were presented at the award assembly:

Most valuable athlete: William Lundberg trophy to Jack Rand.

Football: Renwick Thompson trophy, awarded to most valuable man on squad, to Ted Wilson.

Basketball: Paul Mott trophy, to the outstanding man on the squad, to Clinton Moss.

Track: Fox Brothers' trophy, to the outstanding man on the squad, to Jack Rand.

Cross-country: Jessop Brothers' trophy, to Frank Herpet.

Tennis: Dolph Muehlenstein trophy to the college champion, to Howard Peterson.

Baseball: Linn Platner trophy, to player with highest batting average, to Al Churchman.

Wrestling: Werner Peterson trophy, to most valuable man, to Ted Wilson.

Fencing: To most valuable man, to Lyman Ballinger.

The following members of the track and field team were awarded winged foot medals for new records:

Jack Rand, for a new record of 14 feet, 1/2 inch in the pole vault set last June at the N. C. A. A. meet at Los Angeles.

Selwyn Hartigan: 15 seconds flat in the high hurdles, and 24.4 seconds in the low hurdles.

Russell Flint: 22.2 seconds in the 220 yard dash.

Frank Herpet: 4 min., 31.5 seconds in the mile.

William Larson: 6 feet, 3 inches in the high jump.

Ray Day: 24.4 seconds in the low hurdles.
Football

Out of a turnout of thirty-five men including twelve lettermen, Coach Walt Herreid, aided by his four assistants, turned out a team which, although not rated as the greatest in the State annals, finished up higher in the conference than any preceding Aztec team. The squad finished second to Whittier, winning two of their league affairs, losing one and tying the other.

Handicapped throughout the season by injuries the Aztecs sought victories with a "brain trust" coaching staff consisting of Herreid, Ralph Baker, Bill Quigley, Charlie Smith, Walter Casey, and Morrie Gross.

In non-conference games, the Aztecs managed to win only one of their five encounters, dropping two inter-state tilts to the University of Arizona and Tempe State Teachers College of Arizona. Ability to mark up first downs but lack of the final scoring punch was prevalent in all the State games, which, coupled with the numerous injuries, caused most of the State defeats.

Twenty-two gridmen were awarded letters at the close of the season, nine of them being seniors. Those gaining the pennants and sweaters for three years were the nine seniors: Captain Owen Rice, Jim Derrick, Frank Nottbusch, Jack Rand, Ted Wilson, Charles Wilson, Merle Corrin, Jack O'Mara, and Aubra Bates.

Two stripe sweaters went to John Butler, John Bergrund, Bernard Carm an Al Churchman, and Charles Lee. First year men were Jim Michael, Percy Dasovich, Gil Callies, Ruben Bird, Linden Burns, Charles Durland, John Dirks, and Jack Wallace. Walter Harlin was varsity manager.

Eight players received mention on the all-conference team, Butler and Rice gaining first squad berths; Berglund and C. Wilson, second; and Rand, Derrick, T. Wilson, and Durland, honorable mention.

With only two weeks training behind them, the Aztecs met their toughest foe, the University of California at Los Angeles, losing, 20-0. Captain Livesay of the Bruins led the repeated attacks on the State line, scoring the three touchdowns and kicking the two conversions.

State had two opportunities to score, reaching the ten yard line late in the third quarter and the twenty-one yard line during the middle of the final period. Aside from the two threats the Aztecs were on the defensive.

The U. C. L. A. gridmen scored in every period except the last, out- rushing State two to one in scrimmage. However, the Aztecs managed to work a passing combination that netted them most of their yards, including the two goal line thrusts.

The following week State lost an intersectional game to the University of Arizona Wildcats on the latter's field, 7-0.

State exhibited its usual weakness of failing to put the ball across and fumbling near the goal line but outgained the Wildcats in every department of play, rushing over 14 first downs to 7. Again passing featured the tilt with the Aztecs completing 11 out of 31 for a total of 151 yards.

The only score of the game came after Lee's punt was blocked on the 18 yard line, Arizona recovering and after failing to crack the line, completed a pass in the end zone. This was early in the second quarter.

Injuries in the tilt proved costly to the Aztecs when Merle Corrin suffered a bruised rib.

At the dedication of the stands at Aztec Field a week later, the Aztecs won a ragged game from the Army and Navy Junior College, 19-7, after trailing, 7-6, until a few minutes before the end of the first half.

Periods were cut short, the game lasting only 39 minutes of playing time. The Staters took the ball immediately from the Academy in the first quarter and started a sustained drive to a score with Aubra Bates carrying the ball over.

However, in the next period Mel Latshaw, of the Cadets, intercepted a lateral pass and ran 70 yards to score. His brother, Bob, converted, giving the soldiers a lead that stood until State scored two more touchdowns.

Opening the league season, the State offense, aided by passes, clicked to down Occidental, 20-7. Charlie Wilson's passes to Jack Rand paved the way for the scores which were made by Jim McMichael and Charles Lee. Churchman and Lee made the conversions.

McMichael tallied twice, once on a 59-yard dash, behind the best blocking exhibited by State all season. The Oxy score came from an 84-yard gain on a pass which placed the ball on the two yard line, from where the Bengals easily scored.

In a night game the Staters battled to a scoreless tie in a conference game with La Verne. The Aztecs, pre-game favorites, were over-confident and failed to gain through the line.

Only one scoring chance took place in the entire contest, that being in the final period when the Aztecs reached the 24-yard stripe to be held for three downs. On the fourth, Al
Churchman's place kick flew wide of the uprights.

Again the State passing attack figured well, and although the Montezumans completed 10 out of their 20 passes, six of the other ten were intercepted. The Leopards offered an impregnable defense and surprised the Aztecs with an unexpected offense that carried them many times into State territory.

Losing the only conference tilt of the season after a week's rest, the Aztecs tasted a 26-6 walloping from the conference champions, Whittier, the heavier Poets slashing their way through the State line with Arrambide and Tebbs carrying the ball.

Two regulars, Barney Carman and Ted Wilson suffered serious injuries during the contest, Carman shattering a collar bone, and Wilson suffering concussion of the brain.

A non-conference tilt with Loyola resulted in a 19-3 victory for the Lions who came from behind a 3-point lead in the last of the first half to push over a touchdown before the gun sounded ending the half and then scored twice more in the second half.

Jim McMichael tallied the three points in the opening quarter with a field goal from the 15 yard line. The Lions first scored on a long pass after a fumble on the State 45 yard line. Their second and third scores came on sustained drives of 65 and 45 yards. State, however, seemed rejuvenated, playing a better defensive and offensive game than the previous week. Aubra Bates pulled a shoulder muscle and was lost for the rest of the season.

Ending the conference season, the Aztecs eked out a 7-6 victory over Redlands. Both squads worked deep into each other's territory during the first half, coming within the 15-yard line but neither could put the ball over. Toward the end of the third period Charlie Wilson tossed a pass to Jack Rand for 25 yards, placing the ball on the 15-yard stripe from where Charles Lee took it over in three plays. Lee made the conversion with a place kick.

Immediately afterward the Bulldogs came back with a series of passes and runs to cross the goal line early in the fourth quarter. On the try for point however, Al Churchman crashed through to block the kick.

A climax to State's disastrous injuries came when Merle Corrin fractured his leg and Jack Rand suffered a shoulder injury.

The final game marked another loss for the depleted State forces who bowed this time in an intersectional, non-conference tilt to the Arizona State Teachers College of Tempe, 14-6.
Freshman Football

In their most successful season, the Aztec Frosh chalked up victories over San Diego and Yuma High Schools, Brawley J. C. and Oceanside J. C. and a defeat by the powerful Black Foxe Military Academy.

Opening the season against San Diego High School, the Papooses eeked out a narrow 13-7 victory, their first win over the Cavemen. After being outplayed and run all around the field in the first quarter, the Aztecs came back to push over two touchdowns in the final period.

Scoring whenever they wanted, the Frosh trounced the Oceanside J. C. aggregation 43-0 in a slow affair at the latter’s field. Coach Charlie Smith filled the line-up with reserves, all of whom seemed as successful as the regulars, the team scoring touchdowns in every quarter.

Experiencing their only defeat of the season, the Frosh dropped an 8-0 tussle to the Black-Foxe Military Academy, rated as one of the greatest prep teams in the country. The Frosh, greatly outweighed, lost the services of Joe Lorana and Ed Chilton.

Taking on Brawley J. C. the Frosh ran up a 9-0 victory. Long runs by Valverde and passes to Sefton featured the game.

In the final encounter the Frosh romped to a 20-7 win over Yuma High School, scoring on long runs and a pass.

Twenty-seven were awarded numbers, including Hager, Harris, Baranov, Chilton, Barnes, Casey, Ransome, Hughes, Stewart, Lorona, Yale, Cromer, Stubbs, DeMango, Cuadras, Zimmerman, Turner, Hopkins, Valverde, Duich, Brown, Kelley, Sefton, Hubon, Hull, Arnett and Hasham.
DEFENDING their conference championship proved to be a bigger job than Coach Morris Gross and his hoop-shooting cohorts could do, for although the Aztec basketball team got off to an impressive start, they grew stale toward the end of the season and dropped five of the final eight conference tilts.

Aided by the return of five of the previous year's lettermen, the Staters made admirable showings in their pre-league games and started the conference season with victories. After the crucial series with Whittier the Aztecs slumped, finishing fourth in the conference standings.

Eight letters were awarded to Captain Don Clarkson, Charles Wilson, and Frank Nottbusch, seniors; Francis Perry, Clinton Moss, and John Tyers, juniors; and Linden Burns and Byron Lindley, sophomores. Jack Benton received a manager's letter for the second year.

State received its share of honors when Moss, named the most valuable player on the squad, was selected as All-Conference first team forward. Wilson was put on the second team in the same position, while Clarkson was awarded honorable mention at guard.

In the first two warm-up games the Aztecs defeated El Centro J. C., 55-16, and Brawley J. C., 41-18, both on a barnstorming trip. Both games were slow, with Coach Gross alternating his players to find the most successful combination.

Turning a surprise on the Alumni in the traditional game, the varsity ran up a 32-24 victory. It was in this game that Coach Gross decided on his combination which he used all year, with Burns, center; Clarkson and Nottbusch, guards; and either Lindley and Perry, or Moss and Wilson, forwards. Moss led the scoring with 10 points.

The following week, the Aztecs encountered "big time basketball" and dropped a series of thrillers to the U. C. L. A. Bruins, 51-28 and 34-25. Both games were close, the first going into an overtime period.

Scoring at will in the opening minutes of play of the first game, the taller and more experienced Bruins rang up an early lead, which the Staters managed to whittle down to a 18-12 score at half time.

At the start of the second half, the Bruins again went on a scoring rampage led by John Bull, All-Pacific Coast Conference forward. However, in the closing minutes, aided by two long field goals by Nottbusch and one by Clarkson, the Aztecs pulled up to within two points, where Byron Lindsley sank the tieing bucket within the last minutes of play.

Immediately after the basket, Lindsley was given a chance to win the game on a foul, which he missed, and the affair went into an overtime period, that saw the Bruins sink three foul shots for the victory.

The second game saw first one team take a large lead, and then the other go on a scoring rampage with the Aztecs holding a 7-1 lead at the quarter and the Bruins a 13-11 margin at half time.

State finally tied the score at the end of the third quarter, 21-21, only to lose the game when Nottbusch, the only man tall enough to stop Ball, was sent from the game on fouls.

Preparatory to entering the conference race, the Aztecs trounced another non-conference rival, the Alhambra Athletic Club, 39-32. Long shots aided the Aztecs throughout, while the Moors, playing a conservative game, seemed to have lost their eye for the hoop.

Opening the conference season, State took two games from the La Verne Leopards, 34-27 and 28-20. The first was a rough and tumble affair, with many fouls being called, while the second appeared considerably slower than the previous night's encounter.

In the first tilt, Clarkson with two field goals, led his mates to an early lead which La Verne could never overcome. However, after trailing by 11 points at the half, the Leopards came back in the opening moments of the second period to come within four points of the Aztecs.

La Verne, in the second tussle, gained a lead in the opening moments which was held until about five minutes before the end of the half, when Aztec field goals sent State into an undisputable lead.

State turned in an upset when they defeated Olsen's Terrible Swedes, one of the most potent barn-storming teams in the U. S. in an overtime period, 51-47. The largest crowd ever to attend a State game filled not only the regular stands, but the temporary bleachers set up on the gymnasium floor.

The game itself was a nip-and-tuck affair throughout, the Swedes holding a three point lead at half time. Campbell, six foot, eight inch forward, and Stollting, six foot, ten inch center, constantly kept the game interesting between their clowning and shooting. Campbell scored 25 points, while Burns, the leading man for State, rang up 16.

Charlie Wilson tied the score for the Aztecs in the closing minutes, and after Campbell had sunk a long shot in the overtime period, the Aztecs tied the score and finally won.

Then came the disaster. In the Whittier gym, the State men lost a series to the Poets, 42-33 and 31-29. The Quakers succeeded in closing the Aztec offense and cracked their defense by long shots. Clinton Moss, the outstanding man on the floor, won.

The first tussle saw the Aztecs hold a slight lead until the final 15 minutes, after which they failed to score a point.

In the second contest, State held a single point lead at half time, but Whittier put on a speed to burn up the court and win the game, which ended 25-11, but the Tigers came back in the opening minutes of the second period to tie the score, only to drop behind again.

In the final two conference games, State dropped two tilts for the second consecutive year to Redlands, 31-28 and 40-30. The Bulldogs put a new form of offense and defense into play which baffled the locals, bottling up their attack and stifling their defense.
Freshman Basketball

Undefeated in conference competition, the freshman basketball team, coached by Charles Smith, won the Southern California Conference frosh championship.

Two victories over La Verne, 31-28 and 45-38, and one each over Whittier and Occidental, 34-25 and 41-23, respectively, paved the way for the Papoose crown.

The squad in its entire season suffered only three defeats, two of these being at the hands of the local Y. M. C. A. Varsity, 26-23 and 48-38. The other defeat came at the hands of Black-Foxe Military Academy in a close game, 28-27.

Playing games preliminary to the State Varsity encounters in the gym, the Frosh defeated La Jolla, Grossmont, Sweetwater, and Hoover High Schools. Victories were also won over Southgate High, Yuma High, and Brawley Junior College, the latter two games being played away from home.

Numerals were awarded to: Felix Landis, James Williams, Dick Ault, Jack Fitzgerald, Harvey Thal, James Brown, Wilbur Kelley, John Duich, Clarence Harris, and Manager Tom Goodson.
Coach Peterson and Captain Rand

Track

TAKING their first conference dual and All-Conference meet championships, the State track team, captained by Jack Rand, N.C. A.A. pole vault champion, swept into the roll of honor in the Aztec annals.

The local trackmen went through an undefeated dual meet schedule, with one exception, that being the defeat administered by the powerful University of Arizona squad in an inter-state, non-conference meet.

Six college records fell, and many more were in danger of toppling. Selwyn Hartigan, lanky timber-topper, established two new marks, in the high and low hurdles, while Russell Flint accounted for one in the 220, Frank Heryet in the mile, and Bill Larson and Jack Dawson cracked their distances in the high jump and broad jump, respectively. Gene Kendall also tied the former high jump record, which was later broken by Larson.

In exhibition meets the Staters fared well, winning the conference division of the Southern California Relays and placing fourth in the open division. The meet was held for the first time at State. State took only one first, that in the conference two mile run, but scored enough seconds and thirds to take first ahead of all the six conference schools.

At the Long Beach Relays the local two mile relay team copped the Aztecs' only first place by setting a new record for conference colleges. In other invitational meets Jack Rand took first in the Drake Relays pole vault; Selly Hartigan took the low hurdles, Dawson was second in the broad jump, Kendall first in the high jump, and Larson and Dahlgren tied for third in the same event at the Greenway, Arizona, Relays.

Opening the dual meet season at Tucson, the Aztecs dropped a 95-35 decision to Arizona, the Wildcats establishing six college records and sweeping six events.

Hartigan cracked the high hurdle record for the first time, running the barriers in 15.1, while Frank Heryet also set a new 4:31.5 college mark in the mile.

In the first conference meet, State defeated Whittier and La Verne in a triangular meet, winning with 105.5, while Whittier's 46½ and La Verne's 7 in the triangular meet, and 95 to 36 for Whittier and 119 to 11 against La Verne, in dual meets.

Three college records fell, Hartigan cracking both hurdle marks with 15 flat in the highs and 24.4 in the lows. Russell Flint was responsible for the other mark, sprinting the 220 in 22.2. The Aztecs shut out La Verne in first places and allowed One hundred twenty-five Whittier only two, those coming in the two mile and discus.

Following the Poet-Leopard affair, the Aztecs defeated Redlands, 88½ to 42½. Frank Heryet again cracked the mile mark, taking a tenth of a second off his former record. State swept the high hurdles and broad jump and placed first in nine of the fifteen events. The Aztec relay team established a new State College relay record but the mark was not allowed as they did not win the event, finishing inches behind the Bulldogs.

In the crucial meet of the year, the Aztecs humbled the previously undefeated Occidental Tigers, 70-61. Baker of the Bengals defeated Monte Nutter of State in the half mile, the featured race of the day. Isett of Oxy established a new record for the Tigers of 9.8 in the 100 as did Vincent Reel, Oxy captain, in the lows with the fast time of 23.4. Bill Larson raised his old record in the high jump, leaping 6 feet 3½ inches.

In the All-Conference meet, State again ran off with honors, taking first place with 57 1-3 points, followed by Oxy with 34 1-3; Redlands, 27; Whittier and Santa Barbara, tied with 22; and La Verne, 2 1-3.

State won seven first places, establishing two new college, and three new conference records, one of them, the high jump mark, going on the books as the best individual performance ever made by any athlete in the conference.

Bill Larson, with the best jump of his career in the high jump, leaped 6 feet, 3½ inches. Dawson also cracked his mark in the broad jump, sailing 25 feet, ¾ inch. He broke his former league record of 22 feet, 10½ inches five times in his eight jumps. Jack Rand was responsible for the other record, soaring 13 feet, 10 inches in the pole vault for a new conference mark.

Other places for the Staters were: Bill Howell, first in the shot put; Heryet, first in the mile; Booth, first in the two mile; Hartigan, first in the low hurdles; Nutter, second in the half mile; Kendall, second in the high jump; Hartigan, second in the high hurdles; Dupree, third in the half mile; Duhlgren, third in the high jump; Fox, third in the high hurdles; Lee, third in the javelin; Head, third in the two mile; Rand, fourth in the broad jump; McMichael, fourth in the pole vault; Keller, fourth in the 440; and the team composed of Keller, Crawford, Hartigan, and Dupree, third in the relay. The above received varsity letters as did Norris Howe, manager.

Jack Rand proved his mettle as captain of the victorious team, not only in the pole vault, which he captured with ease, but in the javelin, discus, and broad jump as well. Rand was rated number two man in the javelin, throwing second to Lee, number two in the broad jump, once outleaping Dawson, and number one man in the discus. He was voted the most valuable man on the team.

Besides the records that were broken, some exceptionally good times were made, the best times for each event with the holder being, 100 yard dash, Rainwater, 10 seconds flat; 220 yard dash, Flint, 22.2; 440 yard run, Crawford, 50.7 seconds; 880, Nutter, 1 minute, 59.7 seconds; mile, Heryet, 4 minutes, 31.4 seconds; two mile, Booth, 10 minutes, 20.4 seconds; high hurdles, Hartigan, 15 seconds flat; low hurdles, Hartigan, 24.4 seconds; shot put, Howell, 44 feet; discus, Rand, 127 feet, 6½ inches; javelin, Lee, 186 feet, 2½ inches; pole vault, Rand, 14 feet even; high jump, Larson, 6 feet, 3¼ inches; broad jump, Dawson, 23 feet, 5½ inch; and relay team, composed of Fox, Crawford, Keller, and Dupree.

During the various parts of the season the squad was handicapped by losses, most of these were the loss of Kenneth Ray, stellar sophomore who accounted for most of the Aztec points in the previous year, due to ineligibility; Aubra Bates, former record holder in the low hurdles, through dropping from college; Leonard Murray, sprint and middle distance man, through illness; Bob Dalgren, part of the season through illness; Bill Larson, the first part of the year through a weak ankle; Bob Pollard, pole vaulter, through a spiked leg; and J. R. Rainwater, the Warriors' leading sprinter, forced to leave the Oxy meet and All-Conference meet with a pulled muscle.

Of the letter winners, 12 are graduating or have completed their years of eligibility, while 7 will return for the coming season. Those lost are Howell, Booth, Nutter, Dupree, Denver Fox, Head, Rand, Keller, Rainwater, Larson, and Dawson.

Of these seniors, four have won first places in the All-Conference meet in three years, besides taking the top honors as freshmen. They are: Larson in the high jump; Dawson in the broad jump; Rand in the pole vault; and Booth in the two mile run.

Coach C. E. Peterson is planning on having a large group turn out for the coming year composed of the championship frosh trackmen and the returning letter winners: Hartigan, Kendall, Lee, Crawford, Flint, McMichael, and Heryet.
SIMULATING the varsity, the freshmen not only went through an undefeated track season but also captured the freshman conference track championship.

The Frosh boasted their first victory over San Diego High School, downing the Coast league prep champs, 64-49. The Papooses scored victories over La Jolla, Coronado, Point Loma, Sweetwater, Hoover High Schools, the Marine Corps, and the Metropolitan All Stars.

In conference competition the Frosh annexed the title for the second consecutive year. Coach Walter Herreid's charges scoring 68½ points to Santa Barbara's 67⅔, Whittier's 17½, Oxy's 14, La Verne's 64½, and Redlands' 2.

Those placing in the meet and earning numerals were: Valverde, first in the broad jump, second in 100 and 220; H. Ferguson, first in 440; Dixon, fourth in half-mile; Viau, first in mile and two-mile; Hubbell, second in high hurdles; Day, first low hurdles; Peterson, first in shot; Pierson, second in javelin; Kelley, second in broad jump; Landis, third in broad jump; Casady, second in high jump; Luscomb, second in discus, second in pole vault; Cole, first in pole vault; and a team composed of Dixon, H. Ferguson, F. Ferguson, and Hubbell, first in the relay.
Boxing and wrestling, both taught in the gym classes by Ted Burns, were engaged in by over sixty men. Bouts in both sports were held weekly and boxing tournaments were held in the fall and spring semesters for men of different weights. The only competition offered in wrestling was the annual county A. A. U. tournament in which several State grapplers competed.

Exhibition matches were put on by the members of the classes in assemblies and during the barbecue. Bouts were also staged in the afternoons at the gym for all who cared to attend.

New pulleys and punching bags were outfitted in the wrestling room to aid in the teaching of the courses. Boxing champions in the fall were: Robert Hurd, 125 pounds; Giles Larabee, 135 pounds; Jack Meltzer, 145 pounds; and Bernard Davis, 155 pounds. The spring champions were: Ernest Fleishrand, 125 pounds; Charles Fernandez, 135 pounds; Wallace Taber, 145 pounds; Al Slayen, 155 pounds; Hubert Fernandez, 165 pounds; and Hubert Fernandez, heavyweight.

The State College fencing team, coached by Mr. Robert H. Manzeck, fared well in its few tilts during the season. Exceptional work was done by Captain Dick Shattuck, in defeating a former national champion who competed for the Pasadena Athletic Club.

After twice defeating the San Diego Army and Navy Academy, the local fencers engaged the University of Southern California, Los Angeles Junior College, University of California at Los Angeles, and the Pasadena Fencing Club, winning bouts over all.

About fifty men entered the fencing class and tried out for the team, twelve being chosen to represent the school.

Plans are being formulated to have an annual fencing tournament for all the colleges and junior colleges throughout the State. Recently through a series of dual matches, the University of Southern California was declared fencing champion, although suffering several defeats from U. C. L. A.

Because of the fine showing against the Uclans, State received consideration for a meet the following year with the Berkeley fencers, although at press time no definite plans had been made.

Exhibitions were put on several times during the year by members of the fencing club, appearing at the annual A. M. S. barbecue, before the spectators at the Open House, and at Nearly one hundred men turned out for the tournaments, thirty-five entering the school contest, in which they were seeded according to past performances in either high school or college.

Seadings in the gym classes were arranged by preliminary rounds, winners gaining the top ranks and losers the lower ratings. Workouts were held during the classes while match play was held out of class hours. Three sets constituted each match, with each player compelled to play one match a week or forfeit his position.

In their feature match of the year with Phoenix Junior College, the Aztecs were victorious five matches to three.

Howard Peterson, seeded number one man, led the Aztecs in most of their encounters, but failed to retain his place in the annual school ladder tournament, the top rung at press time being held by Cleveland Wharton.

Others who placed high were Bill Morrissey, Bill Buehlmam, Bill McClinton, Sam Woodhouse, Dick Ault and Chet Young. The contest was featured by upsets, and top spot position was occupied by many during the progress of the tournament.

In gym classes tennis tournaments were sponsored and leaders in the individual classes were Bill McClinton, Robert Jennings, Arthur Lai, and Robert Carlson.

PLAYING only a few games, the State baseball team made a good showing although not entering conference competition. Victories over the Marines, Central playgrounds, and other sandlot teams marked the season.

Lack of pitchers caused most of the college's losses, as Al Churchman was the only man able to do mound duty for the Aztecs. Durland, catcher, Larson in the outfield and Fournier in the infield were the outstanding players.

Churchman pitched his best game against the Marines, in the first of the three game series, which the Aztecs won 11-0. He allowed the Leathernacks, who had beaten such teams as U. S. C., California, Stanford, and U. C. L. A., only two hits in the entire contest.

Despite their showing in the first tussle with the Bulldogs, the Aztecs dropped the next two games to the Marines, 4-3 and 15-11.

Both tilts were close with the locals out-hitting and out-playing the Leathernecks, but the lack of ability

WITH very little opportunity offered them to play, and no matches scheduled, the State College golf team worked during the spring afternoons at the Emerald Hills golf course.

Charles Lee turned in the best performances for the State golfers and managed to set several course records with low scores.

Plans were made for the starting to capitalize on their scoring chances set the Aztecs back.

Many new players were brought forth from the combined varsity and frosh ranks, including two outstanding frosh players, Ed Chilton, outfielder and former San Diego High School captain, and Franklin Greene, first baseman.

of a golf club for the next season in conjunction with the golf classes held at the school. Hopes for conference encounters were also expressed and ideas for one large conference tournament were set forth.

Late in May the annual golf tourney for the Charles Dietrick trophy was played. The meet, a thirty-six hole affair, was played over a period of two weeks on different Saturdays. About 25 men competed.
Inter-fraternity Sports

FINISHING well up in every sport, Tau Delta Chi fraternity won the Inter-fraternity championship with more than a hundred point margin over its nearest rival, Eta Omega Delta. Omega Xi was third and Epsilon Eta fourth.

In football the Tau Delts assumed an early lead, sailing through an undefeated season to win first place. Aided by passes from Bill Larson to Bob Dahlgren, the Tau Delts copped victories over the six other organizations.

Eta Omega Delta and Epsilon Eta tied for second position honors in the football race gaining fifty points each for the final fraternity standings.

In basketball, led by Bill Bent on, the Omega Xi's went to an unchallenged crown, winning all six games. Tau Delta Chi finished second with one defeat while the Hods were third, suffering two defeats.

The tournament was held previous to the regular basketball season, allowing several freshmen to compete since there is a fraternity ruling preventing letter or numeral winners of previous years from competing in that sport in inter-frat competition.

In the annual track meet the Tau Delts swept to an easy victory, scoring a majority of points. Many good times were made, including the fast 220 yard dash, which was won by Bill Valverde, Omega Xi, in 22 seconds. Although this established a new school record, it was not allowed as there was a slight wind blowing down the straightaway.

Valverde also managed to cop the 100 yard dash and the broad jump. Being the only three first place winner.

Ernest Viau, representing the Tau Delts, took first places in the half and mile runs. The track, slowed down by early rains, was responsible for the fact that not many of the inter-frat records were broken.

The Eta Omega Delta volleyball team went through an undefeated season in the volleyball games, while the Tau Delts came out in second position. The Sigma Lambdas led up to the final two days, but lost to the Hods and Tau Delts in their last two encounters to end up in third place.

A three way tie resulted in the indoor contest with the Hods, Tau Delts and Kappa Phi Sigma each losing one game. A play-off had been previously arranged but was called off due to lack of time.

Seven fraternities competed in the inter-fraternity league: Tau Delta Chi, Eta Omega Delta, Sigma Lambda, Omega Xi, Kappa Phi Sigma, Epsilon Eta, and Delta Pi Beta.

Plans and schedules for the year’s program were arranged by Dale Pyle, inter-fraternity athletic director for the last three years, who was in complete charge of all the games.

Football, indoor, tennis, volleyball, basketball, and track were played at school while the swimming meet was held at the municipal pool and the golf meet at Emerald Hills.

Inter-class Sports

INTER-CLASS competition took place in only three sports, the annual frosh-soph push-ball contest, the frosh-soph touchball game, and the inter-class track meet.

In the push-ball contest the sophs after a slow start pushed the ball through the heavily favored frosh back to the ten yard line, from where, after a mighty goal line stand, they pushed it over. The game was participated in by forty first and second year men between halves of the Occidental football game.

The track meet was captured by the seniors, the same athletes who had won it as freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. The sophomores came in a close second, while the juniors nosed out the freshmen for third.

Features of the meet were the Heryet-Viau duel in the mile, and Kendall's record tying leap of 6 feet 1\frac{1}{4} inches in the high jump.

The track meet combined the usual inter-class series with the novice affair and brought several new prospects to light, among whom were Selwyn Hartigan, outstanding hurdler for the Aztecs.

Due to heavy rains in previous weeks, the track was slow, the best time being made when Monte Nutter took Rene Dupree in the half mile in the rather fast time of 2 minutes, 3 seconds even.

In football the sophomores again downed the freshmen 12 to 6.

Inter-sorority Council

Disregarding decreased membership because of deferred rushing, which was introduced among the sororities for the first time last fall, members of the Intersorority Council have completed an unusually active year.

The fall semester opened with a tea in Scripps Cottage for women new to the college, and was followed by the traditional Pledge Dinner, in honor of the new pledges of the different members of the council, at which time the scholarship cup was awarded to Sigma Pi Theta.

Officers were: Betty Bell, president; Margaret Standish, vice-president; Dorothy Leetch, secretary; Dorothy Armstrong, treasurer; and Mrs. Alvena S. Storm, adviser.

It was quite a struggle before the sophomores proved their superiority, but prove it they did. In the foreground is the referee, who did manage to remain untrammeled upon.

POOR FROSH

It takes just two weeks for the frosh to thoroughly understand all the traditions and the manner in which the sophomores mete out justice.
AZTEC SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

Among the social functions are the W. G. A. Co-ed Conclave with its attendant publicity, rallies both on the campus and at the Union Station with Coach Walt Herreid as speaker, the Alumni luncheon, and the Freshman reception.

ON THE QUAD

When it rains, it pours, but after Lake Aztec dries up, no one seems to be mindful of the "Keep off the Grass" signs. Meanwhile in the lab chemists and physicists are hard at work.

IN THE CLASSROOM
The more serious side of college life is seen in the library, in the labs, in the lecture halls, and in the murals in the art department. Even the training school youngsters are searching for knowledge.
KING FOOTBALL

Card stunts, flag raising, water wagon, singing section, and yell leader all lend the atmosphere that brings the crowds to the Whittier, Army and Navy Academy and Loyola games. The point that spelled victory over Redlands and action shots from the Whittier game are also shown.
It is difficult to live up to a quality standard, and to a professional ideal, but these are the business traditions which endure and make a reputation of the highest order.

AZTEC MEN

There's plenty of work and pleasure for the Aztecs. Twice each year the "S" on Black Mountain must be refurbished and a large party of freshmen complete a spic and span job. The long lines are waiting for food at the annual barbecue, which Oecot helped to arrange.

SPORTS WORLD
Track, basketball, fencing, and football enter the picture, with the new head man, Leo Calland, in the spotlight. If it's form that it takes, note Rand, Larson, Lee, and Hartigan in action, while Keller, Head, and Heryet win their races. Below, Louise, queen of the relays.
In the spring, dedication ceremonies, Open House, and the operetta are three long anticipated events each spring. The exercises on the floor of the stadium, the photographic salon and the quad during Open House, and some of the principals of "The Desert Song" are shown here.

WOMEN'S SPORTS
Proper stance brings results in archery and golf, which readily find favor with the co-eds, but are not more popular than tennis, soccer, hockey, or basketball.
If you are looking ahead now and preparing for the speeding up of the business tempo, you may be interested in seeing what we have done for a large number of advertisers during a period when results were demanded without extravagant expenditures.
