To President Hepner
With the Sincere Compliments of the Editor

Gordon Wiggins
DEDICATION
To the new president of San Diego State College, Walter K. Heiner, who by his enthusiasm and energy has already won the loyalty and friendship of the entire student body.
BOOK I
OUTCALT

COMPLETING his first year as the President of San Diego State college, Walter R. Hepner, commands the good will and respect of the entire college because of his great capacity for friendship, tireless store of enthusiasm, and unusual grasp of educational problems. As a climax to untiring efforts of the last administration, regional status was secured early in the year, and President Hepner’s energies have been directing the progress of the college toward fuller development in meeting the educational needs of this community.

IRVING E. Outcalt, Vice-President, and head of the English department, has, in the twenty-four years he has been at State college, combined scholarship with such a feeling for the beautiful and significant in literature and life that the classes he conducts are always crowded. His keen appreciation of the humorous, his friendliness and alertness of mind have made him one of the best loved members of the faculty. State’s high cultural standards are largely due to the influence he has exerted as an educator and in distinguished literary achievements of his own.
A. G. Peterson, in his dual capacity as Dean of Men and track coach, displays in both, the cheery disposition and willingness to help others that has endeared him to the entire student body. He is one of the most energetic and tireless workers for State, and has done much in gaining the cooperation of citizens for the college.

Arthur G. Peterson, Dean of Liberal Arts and Professor of Economics, by his knowledge of vocational problems, together with the keen personal interest he takes in the students who come to him for advice, has made it possible for him to guide many students into worthwhile activities. He is one of the most enthusiastic workers in extra-curricular activities.

Charles E. Peterson, in his dual capacity as Dean of Men and track coach, displays in both, the cheery disposition and willingness to help others that has endeared him to the entire student body. He is one of the most energetic and tireless workers for State, and has done much in gaining the cooperation of citizens for the college.

A. G. Peterson

Charles E. Peterson

Mary Irwin McMullen, combines great personal charm with an understanding of college problems inherent in her duties as Dean of Women. Her guiding spirit has insured the success of many campus activities. Her leadership when attending State college, and her excellent service as placement secretary has been continued by her competent guidance of student affairs in her present position.

Mary Irwin McMullen

Jesse W. Ault, Dean and Professor of Education, is largely responsible for the high standards maintained by San Diego State college in the field of education. His thorough and comprehensive understanding of modern educational methods has enabled him in his capacity as advisor to teachers in training to contribute service of inestimable worth.

CLASSES
The Class of '36

BLAZING new trails the class of '36 has shown itself worthy of the honor of being the first class to graduate from the "New San Diego State College."

Able and enthusiastic leadership created a class consciousness leading to definite activities, and establishing a precedent which it is hoped will become traditional. Meetings were held throughout the college year.

The climax of the academic year was the Senior Week. The first event was the baccalaureate services under the direction of Cap and Gown. With impressive ceremonies the class presented its gift to the school. Another feature inaugurated was the senior edition of The Aztec. The senior assembly proved highly entertaining. Finals completed, a series of brilliant social activities followed, including among them the beach party and senior ball, long to be remembered with pleasure by the class of '36.

The officers of the class were Bill Tinker, president; Barbara Freeman, vice-president; James Hutton, secretary; Howard Turrentine, treasurer; Alice Caragher, women's athletic representative, and Glenn Warren, men's athletic representative.

WALTER HARLIN, "Lightning" the football team which he managed for two years called him. This is the fastest action picture we could get of him. **

The Class of '37

MEMBERS of the class of '37, upholding the tradition obtained in their first two years as being the dominant class in athletics, captured the interclass fall track championship. The juniors also played an important part socially by aiding in some of the more successful social affairs of the college.

One of the outstanding class affairs was the beach party which was held in the latter part of May.

Enthusiastic leaders of the juniors were Byron Lindsley, president; Bill Crawford, vice-president; Marjo Koch, secretary; Gene Kendall, treasurer; Peggy Stewart, women's athletic representative, and Frank Heryet, men's athletic representative.
The Class of '38

Initiating the freshman class into college the sophomore class aided by "Oceot", sophomore men's service fraternity, held several successful meetings of the Court of Traditions.

Although losing the annual push ball contest to the freshmen, the class of '38 dominated lower class activities.

Many sophomores held important offices in the school, increasing the prestige of the sophomore class. The outstanding social event was the joint dance of the freshman-sophomore classes.

Officers of the class were Owen Clarke, president; Helen Eastman, vice-president; Jane Grant, secretary; Dick Ault, treasurer; MacArthur Gorton, men's athletic representative.

The Class of '39

Comprising more than one-third of the student body, the freshman class reached a high pinnacle in class attainments. Gordon Hall and Bill Lyle were chosen as the school yell kings. The freshman-sophomore push ball contest resulted in a well-earned victory for the freshmen. A spring dance given by the combined lower classes proved to be one of the outstanding successes of the year.

Responsible for the class achievements were Bob Loveall, president; Bill Lyle, vice-president; Marion Rufing, secretary; Bob Merritt, treasurer; Marie Smedley, women's athletic representative; Frank Galindo, men's athletic representative.
Alumni Association

ENJOYING a most successful year the alumni association played an important role in the furthering of the college’s interests. A stronger bond of friendship within the group, a closer relationship to the campus, as well as an increase in membership, have been the outstanding attainments of the association. All affairs were scheduled for approximately every three months and were well attended, showing a growing interest in the organization.

A dinner honoring Coach Calland and President Hepner began the activities. The next event was a very successful dance at the San Diego Club. At a meeting held at Scripps cottage, the alumni were entertained by Skull and Dagger, honorary dramatic fraternity. On April 24 a benefit bridge party was undertaken at the San Diego Club to raise funds for State college scholarships. The annual homecoming banquet in June, with President Von Kleinsmid of the University of Southern California as the principal speaker, culminated the year’s activities.

Officers of the association for the past year were: Jefferson Stickney, Jr., president; Anne Powell, first vice-president; Mary Edith Lane, second vice-president; Nancy French, recording secretary; Georgia Shattuck, corresponding secretary; Carl Esenoff, treasurer; Jim Lowrie, publicity; Robley Veal, William Lyons, Bryant Kearney, directors.
COMPLETING his eighth year of service in the position of Graduate Manager, Alvin Morrison is the one man who knows just where the money comes in and where it goes out.

By his competent supervision of all financial activities of the student body, Morrison has been able to offer the students a maximum of benefits with a minimum of expenses.

His duties consist of preparing the student body budget, managing the Aztec Shops, Ltd., a corporation which operates the bookstore and the cafe on a non-profit basis, and the supervision of all business arrangements for the school.

DON Clarkson capably filled his administrative position throughout the past year and continued to have ever increasing popularity with the student body.

He attended the conferences of the Pacific Presidents' Association, where he gained new ideas and discussed pertinent problems with the student leaders of the colleges and universities of southern California. He was always working for better co-operation between the faculty and the student body, and planned with others the future development of the campus.

As the head of the Student Council, Don Clarkson was instrumental in inaugurating new and important reforms in student business, always in the interests of harmony and progress.
Although the Student Council determines the policy and Mr. Morrison acts in its name, duties of the Finance Board require it to analyze all the expenditures and budget cuts. This year copies of last year's budget and estimates for the coming term were passed to council members in order to give a clearer understanding of the budget items.

In several cases appropriations were increased as in the debate team, golf, baseball, and other minor sports. The Aztec engraving budget was cut. Additional expenditures for the Exposition College Day, the newly-inaugurated Hall of Fame, and swimming were added.

The Finance Board is composed of the president of the student body, the graduate manager, the commissioner of finance, elected by the student body, and two members of the student council, elected by that body. John Butler, Commissioner of Finance, presided at the meetings of the Finance Board, which consisted of Alvin Morrison, graduate manager; Don Clarkson, president of the student body, and the two council members, Bill Koller and Thomas Stone.

THE student executive officers for the year, in addition to President Clarkson, included Barbara Freeman, Helen Smith, John Butler, Gordon Peterson, and Abbie Johnson.

Barbara Freeman, as vice-president of the Associated Students, acted as official hostess of the student body, and was in charge of the Jolly-up parties, one of the most successful social ventures at San Diego State College. In her administrative capacity she served quite capably on the Student Council.

Helen Smith, secretary, issued notices of the Student Council as well as serving as recorder of the minutes of the Council meetings.

Working with the finance board, John Butler, commissioner of finance, adjusted budget needs for the student body, and represented the students in all financial matters.

Gordon Peterson and Abbie Johnson were elected by the Student Council to serve on the Executive Board and assist in its functions. They both worked hard and justified the faith placed in them by the Student Council.

Assembly Committee

Under the direction of a hard working committee, the student assemblies for the last year provided interesting and educational entertainment, featuring prominent speakers who brought new ideas and personalities to the eyes and ears of the student body.

Faculty members of the assembly committee included Dean Mary McMullen, Deborah Smith, Paul Pfaff, Lewis B. Lesley, and Mrs. Smoor. The student members were Mary Lindley, Frank Losey, Don Clarkson, and Bill deLannoy.

Thomas Wood Stevens, director of the Old Globe theater at the Exposition, spoke September 27th on contemporary problems of the theater. His talk was sponsored by Skull and Dagger, honorary drama fraternity, which later presented Dr. Franklin D. Walker in a review of the Pulitzer prize winner, "The Old Maid".

Sigmund Spaeth, nationally known "tune detector", spoke to a delighted audience which extended even to the outside of the little theater. He traced the origin of modern songs, and demonstrated many humorous musical peculiarities on the piano.

United States Senator Elbert D. Thomas of Utah reviewed the armament situation and world conditions since 1918, at a well attended assembly on November 21.

Max Miller, the renowned writer, entertained at another regular assembly, when he rambled in a humorous and unusual manner about his writings and experiences. Collegians were impressed with his sincerity and personality, and went away from that assembly with kinder thoughts for poor, down-trodden authors.

The committee certainly deserves credit for their fine work in bringing all of this talent to State College. The assemblies showed one thing beyond a doubt, and that is the inadequacy of the little theater. With students turned away from most every assembly, it can plainly be seen that the next progressive development should be a new auditorium.
CAPABLY led by President Barney Carman, Associated Men students went through a busy year, featured by the first annual "Dad's Day" held in lieu of the former barbecue, and the introduction of an opportunity for students to interview prominent business men of San Diego in regards to the futures of vocations and fields of study. This vocational service aided students in determining study programs and in learning of opportunities and present conditions in their probable life work.

Out of town students were honored at the first of the fall semester with a boat ride arranged through the co-operation of the U. S. S. Ranger. Men visited the Ranger, were given a ride around the bay on a large excursion ship, and met afterwards at the Chamber of Commerce for refreshments, entertainment and words of welcome by school leaders. Officers of the AMS who planned the boat ride as well as all other events of the year included Art Clarkson, vice-president; Tom Stone, secretary; Stanley Burne, treasurer, and Dean C. E. Peterson, faculty advisor. Dean Peterson materially aided many of the programs with his knowledge and experience in work with men students.

A luncheon honoring principals and vice-principals of high schools of San Diego and vicinity was held before the Santa Barbara football game, with the purpose of cementing better relations between local high schools and the college. New men students were feted at the AMS stag in the gymnasium in the fall and in the spring term a smoker was given in the men's club rooms in conjunction with the Jolly-up dance for new students. High schools interested in the college activities were benefited by a football contest for high school men between halves of the College of...
Pacific football game. Medals were awarded for punting, passing, and football relay.

Other events during the year were: a dance for San Diego and Whittier college students after the second Whittier-San Diego basketball game; a dance after the Redlands University football game in the Pompeian room of the San Diego hotel, where the Redlands team and visiting students were guests; and an AMS program at an assembly at La Jolla junior-senior high school, featured by vocal and instrumental numbers, short talks about the college by AI Churchman, Coach Morrie Gross, and Camman, and an exhibition by the college fencers.

Dad's Day, perhaps the most important event of the year for men students, was held on March 28. Fathers of men students attended the baseball game with Occidental and the track meet with Redlands in the afternoon and in the evening were royally entertained at a huge banquet and smoker program in the gym, where songs by the glee clubs, fencing, badminton, and wrestling exhibitions were given, all of which brought fathers into a closer contact with the many and varied student activities. Introduced by Dean and Coach C. E. Peterson, honored guests who have contributed to the traditions of the college were presented. Awards were given to Professor Irving E. Outcalt, who wrote the words for "Fra Junipero Serra"; to Dr. Wlfred M. Knudtson, author of "Fair San Diego"; to Franklin Archer, designer of the official Aztec symbol; to Grace Walker Allen, who wrote "Purple Mountains"; and to Mrs. Jane France Elliott author of "On San Diego."

Throughout the past year, the Associated Women Students have been successful in carrying out an interesting and complete program, due largely to the efficiency, enthusiasm and co-operation of board members.

To connect and support all women's activities on the campus has been the purpose of the A. W. S. With this in mind, it has sponsored freshman week co-operating with smaller organizations in holding Fresh activities and entertaining at a picnic luncheon in the quad followed by a short assembly.

In co-operation with the Associated Men Students, a boat ride in the bay and a visit to the U. S. S. Ranger followed by a party at the Chamber of Commerce hall was given for out of town students.

Irene Tedrow, a leading actress at the Globe Theater at the Expo-sition, was the speaker at an A. W. S. assembly in November. Miss Tedrow spoke on "The Stage as a Career for Women." Following her talk, members of the board were introduced.

A formal Jingle-Belles banquet in December at the Elks' club was the outstanding social event of the fall semester. Mrs. Walter Hepner was officially welcomed to the college by the women students, and former A.W.S. presidents were guests of honor.

Second-semester freshman girls were welcomed in February at a Doe Dinner in Scripps cottage, preceding the Stag and Doe dance which replaced the usual freshman reception.

In March, the A.W.S. sponsored the revival play "Fashions". Proceeds were placed in a fund for a piano for Scripps cottage. Also during March, representatives of the board attended an A.W.S. conference at Occidental. Those who attended were the officers, including Marian Stooke, Doris Gledhill, Helen Clark, and Helen Eastman. An A.W.S. conference at the University of Colorado in Boulder, Colorado, was attended by Marian Stooke, this year's president, and Doris Gledhill, next year's president-elect.

In May, the annual Feminine Frolics was presented. Following an outdoor supper on the quad, skits were presented in the little theater. A cup was presented to the group giving the best skit.

A. W. S. officers for the year were Marian Stooke, president; Doris Gledhill, vice-president; Helen Clark, secretary, and Helen Eastman, treasurer. Women's organization representatives were Maryanna Peterson, interfraternity council; Mildred Robertson, W.A.A.; Irene Kline, out-of-town girls; Betty Lonie, College Y, and Jane Wells, Cetza. Committee chairmen were Helen Jean Barthelmess, first semester, and Geraldine Weber, second semester, social chairman; Marie Hildreth, program; Chloris Kersten, Scripps cottage, and Evelyn Tanck, publicity.

PUBLICATIONS
The progressive development of San Diego State College reached an all time high in the last school year when the long sought for "regional status" was achieved, giving the college the right to drop the word "Teachers" from the official title. Endeavoring to keep in step with the expansion of the college, the 1936 Del Sudoeste has been published in the regular 9 by 12 inch college size. Many other new advances have also been made in this yearbook in an effort to really create something representative of the growth of San Diego State College.

In the printing of the book, the off-set process enabled the size of the division pages, end-sheets, and view section to be increased with no additional cost over previous annuals. An innovation in the photo-mounting in the Senior section was undertaken with the desire to increase interest in that section by the novel use of informal snap-shots of prominent members of the Senior class.

The arrangement which was used in the Organization section was developed in order to balance picture sizes and not with any thought of discrimination. By using the histories, the pledge pins, and the lists of officers of all the fraternal organizations it was hoped that all the students would become better acquainted with these groups. The Sports lay-out was designed to secure larger pictures at no extra cost and to give equal recognition to all athletic participants.

Realizing a need for more publicity for the 1936 Del Sudoeste, a beauty contest was sponsored by this publication. Dick Powell, famous Warner Bros. screen star, willingly consented to pick the three most beautiful girls from a group of photographs sent to him. News concerning the contest was printed in downtown newspapers, and also in the Collegiate Digest supplement to The Aztec. The contest gave San Diego State college as well as Del Sudoeste a great deal of publicity, and it is hoped that similar contests will become a traditional function of Del Sudoeste. The results of the contest can be found in the special beauty section.

Another new idea used in connection with this yearbook is the Senior Honor Roll of ten outstanding students. A committee of student and faculty members were appointed to pick these ten students on a merit basis. Each of these selected students received one copy of the limited honor edition. In the front page of each of these books was printed a certificate acknowledging the ability of its owner.

Outstanding art work is one of the big features of the 1936 Del Sudoeste. The cover design was made to carry out the theme embodied in the unusual division pages and end sheets. The important events which have been happening in the world around us became the basis for this art work. Closely allied with this thought is the idea of events which were important because of their proximity and because of acquaintance with central figures in those events. And that, of course, brings one down to this very campus, which should be considered the starting point for those graduating seniors who will now enter the practical world and attempt to make their marks upon history.

The San Diego business concerns who handled the technical work in the production of this annual deserve a great deal of credit for their helpful co-operation.

STARTING a week before official registration in September, and continuing throughout the school year, The Aztec, weekly newspaper, was issued in six pages instead of the usual four, although it was necessary a few times to issue a four page edition in order to stay within the budget allowance. The paper again won high national honors in the rating by the National Scholastic Press association.

The Aztec presented news of interest to the college in an interesting manner through news stories and features. Members of the staff attended two conferences to discuss problems and exchange ideas, meeting with other members of the Southern California Press association at Santa Barbara State College in the fall, and again in the spring they met at Occidental College. Both conventions aided in the promotion of better relations between the colleges of the southland, and in the furthering of good journalism.

Alfred Alexander was editor for the year, and Lottie Mitchell served as associate editor. Orville Nordberg was the news editor. Evelyn Tanck was editor of the society page. Dave Ferris capably handled the editorial page, while Elya Bresler was head of the sports section. Several new members were added to the staff during the year. With the co-operation of Durlin Flogg, advertising manager for all San Diego State College publications, the paper was increased to six pages, thus giving all activities and organizations ample publicity.

Individual members of the staff won awards, headed by Alexander whose submitted news story was the best among hundreds in a large contest. John Barron continued his excellent linoleum cuts on the editorial page, while Ralph Vernacchia added to the sports section with cuts of prominent athletes. Vernacchia also made cuts which were complied into a pamphlet and given to outstanding winners of athletic awards.

CONTINUING its popular policy established last year, El Palenque, the college literary magazine, represented a variety of subject-matериалs, tastes, and moods. Short stories featured the fall issue, while the spring publication was an informal-essay number.

"Color Schemes", an article on varicolored political groups by Dr. E. L. Hardy, former president of State College, was the No. 1 contribution of the fall issue. Harry C. Steinmetz, associate professor of psychology and philosophy, composed the feature essay for the spring Palenque on an original philosophical occurrence, titled "Utopia, Dream or Destination". Written exclusively for the point of view of the student, Professor Steinmetz' thesis emphasized that the construction of Utopias is only justifiable with a destination in mind. Dream Utopias are rendered useless without programs in action. An ingenious Utopian symbol was used as a pattern for the essay, a symbol that included all the logical approaches to a Utopian discussion.

Handbook

For the first time, all students received the freshman Handbook, which contained the student body constitution, lists of organizations and their purposes, and timely advice to new students. Elya Bresler was editor, assisted by Orville Nordberg, Tommy Stone, and John Barron.

End Zone

End Zone, with pictures and notes on the games, was again edited by Jack Benton. The magazine was issued at all local football games in which the Aztecs played. National advertising was secured by Durlin Flagg, making it possible for the magazine to be given away free to all.

Student Directory

A DIRECTORY containing the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all faculty members, state employees, and students was published for the first time through the sponsorship of Blue Key. Alfred Alexander was in charge of its issuance.

CONTINUING
Publicity Bureau

CHARLES BYRNE again was head of the publicity bureau, supplying local and outside papers with news of athletic events as well as other activities of the students. Byrne increased sport publicity of the college in local papers by a good third, and has given the college a 200 percent increase in space in outside papers.

Radio

OWEN CLARKE with Larry Lydick arranged the "Aztec quarter hours" over radio station KPSO each week, using student talent exclusively. In addition to vocal and instrumental numbers, the Aztec Reporter described news of the campus to the listeners.
Men's Glee Club

PARTICIPATING in concerts, programs, and operettas, the Men's Glee Club continued its tradition of service to the school with an extensive and busy schedule during the school year.

The club was selected in the fall semester to sing over a Pacific coast radio hookup as a leading men's choir, and sang in the Ford Bowl on the State College day given in the fall. Members sang in the annual Christmas Concert, at the Ryan Field Christmas party, at the City Employees' Christmas party, at the First Methodist church, and the Glee club contest at the University of Redlands in the spring. The Glee sang at June commencement to culminate a year's activity. The choirs of the operetta, "Sweethearts" were from the Glee club with all programs and activities under the direction of Fred S. Beideman.

John Tyers was president of the group during the year. He was assisted by Milo Wood, vice-president; James Fisher, secretary, and Bill Weimer, librarian. Mr. Fisher was the accompanist for the year.

School songs were featured by the chorus at the first annual Dad's Day program in the gymnasium, when many parents heard for the first time the words and melody of "On San Diego" and "Fra Jumpino Sera". All appearances of the Men's Glee were received with enthusiasm and appreciation.

Treble Clef

Treble Clef, Women's Glee Club, was one of the most active organizations on the campus during the year. They appeared before numerous groups in the city as well as presenting the annual concert in the Church of the New Jerusalem and participating in the Inter-Collegiate Glee Club contest in Redlands, April 18.

Among the more important engagements of Treble Clef were appearances before Sponsors' club, Coronado Rotary club, University Christian church, Music Teachers' association, college open house, on April 26, annual Treble Clef concert on the campus, May 8, and participation in the senior commencement exercises, June 12. Choruses for the operettas were taken from the club, and many members had leading roles.

The Christmas concert was given at Hoover Senior high school. Treble Clef was presented in solo groups and also combined with the Men's Glee and the orchestra for Handel's Hallelujah chorus. The highlight of the evening was the Cantata, Sir Oluf by Wane, which was sung by Treble Clef with June Bowler and John Tyers, soloists.

Treble Clef won cups in the inter-collegiate contest in the year 1930, 1932, and 1934.
Women’s Quartet

The Women’s Quartet had a busy year in filling all the engagements which the entire Treble Clef was unable to fill. They appeared before social, service, and civic groups in the city, aiding to publicize the college through the medium of good music.

Men’s Octette

The Men’s Octette, under Fred C. Beidleman, director, sang over KFSD for the Aztec programs, at the House of Hospitality at the Exposition, and appeared during the year at the El Cajon Rotary Club, Hoover High P.T.A., North Park Business Club, and with the Men’s Glee during the year, as well as several other appearances.
"Sweethearts"

VICTOR HERBERT'S operetta, "Sweethearts" was selected to be San Diego State's spring presentation of the music department, to carry on the tradition of an operetta every spring. Previous productions have been "Robin Hood", "Chimes of Normandy", and the "Desert Song".

Mr. Paul Pfaff and Norman Rock, former Aztec student, were the co-directors in charge of the dramatic end of the production. Musical directors of the production were Mr. Fred Beidleman and Miss Deborah Smith. The cast numbered nearly 100 students who were members of the Men's Glee Club and Treble Clef.

This was the first year that the operetta gave two performances, May 1 and 2 at the Russ Auditorium. Rehearsals began the second week of March, and constant hard work on the production resulted in excellent performances. John Tyers and June Bowler again had leads as in the "Desert Song." Tyers took the part of Prince Franz and Miss Bowler the part of Silvia. Other leads were Rosalie Maiss as Liane; Don Coker as Lt. Karl; Ed Griffith as Slingsby; Wayne Frye, Van Tromp; George Dorsey, Caniche; Anita Geesler, Paula; Giles Brown, Mikel; Margaret Ritchie, Jeannette; Rosaleen Remick, Clunette; Ashleen Crandall, Babette; Harriet France, Lisette; Mary Beth Gray, Toinette, and Helen Shively, Nanette.
Theater Guild

With its purpose the supervision and guidance of all dramatic productions, the Student Theater Guild, composed of members of drama classes, aided in the selection of productions and helped in the staging of productions at the college.

Officers who led the Theater Guild during the year were headed by Al Bradt, as president; Bradt has been a member of many casts and has materially aided in all dramatic efforts at State. Other officers included Rosalie Mass, secretary; Bill Koller, executive secretary, and Sheridan Gorton, business manager.

Big Game Varieties

Sponsored by Skull and Dagger, the first annual pre-game review, "Everything Goes in College" or "A College Course in Two Hours", was presented November 15, the night before the Redlands game, to a highly pleased audience. The theme was a satire on college life, the program representing a typical college announcement forming the continuity for the 39 acts presented by organizations and individuals.

The show was conceived and produced by George Al Berry, producer of "Aztec Follies of 1932", ably supported by a staff led by Bill deLannoy, director, and Harold Otwell and Gordon Wiggins, cast managers. Dialogue was written by Lauran Clapp and Clara Marie Bolio and several other clever writers wrote skits for their particular groups. Original songs included were by Charles Cannon, Brown Bradshaw, Ralph Thompson, and Berry; including numbers entitled "Co-educational Blues" and "Blue Book Blues". Music was furnished by Frank Losey’s orchestra.

Principals were Ruth Heller, Art Clarkson, and Charles Taylor as the "Three Stoogents" and Helen Wetzell as the Herald. Organizations represented were: Women’s Quartet, Press Club, Phi Xi, IC Speech Arts, Phi Lambdo XI, Art Guild, Kappa Phi Sigma, Delta Pi Beta, Delta Chi Phi, and the college faculty. Individual performers were Dr. Joseph Keeney, Elya Bresler, John Tvers, June Bower, Anna Justc, George Walton, Beltram Hubbard, Edward Ortiz, Leonoldo Contreras, Eleanor Smith, and Lubin Barbachano.

The little theater was presented with several new spot lights from the profits of the show.
"Fashions"

WITH hearty support by the student body and faculty, State's annual revival play was presented three times, March 12, 13, and 26. This year's melodrama was "Fashions", a play of the Civil War period. In a manner similar to that of "The Drunkard", "Fashions" was once a serious affair but has so altered with the times that it proved to be a laugh riot. The dark, scheming villain, the sweet heroine and the broad-shouldered, clear-eyed hero were much in evidence to the large crowds that helped the actors along with verbal and vegetable contributions.

Under the direction of Sybil Eliza Jones and the drama department, the play was the seventh in a series of revival plays given by students of the college.

Characters included Gertrude, played by Olive Hockaday; Mr. Tiffary; Arnold Spencer; Mrs. Tiffany, Anna Just; Colonel Howard; George Dorsey; Adam Trueman, Russell Alkire; Mr. Fogg, Bill Koller; Saraphina, Helen Clark; Millinette, Dolores Bacon; Twinkle, Bob Hawley; Snobson; Al Bradd; Count Jolimaitre, Russell Flint; Zeke, Howard McBride.

The curtain acts by Jack Stafford and Jane Bowler were the "targets" of the evening. Their renditions of romantic songs were received with great delight by a highly responsive audience.

"One Mad Night"

"ONE MAD NIGHT", student body dramatic production, was presented to large crowds on May 14 and 15 in the little theater. The play was a mystery comedy in three acts centered around the plot of an innocent girl who is wrongfully detained in an insane asylum. The antics of the inmates helped to provide the farcical aspects of the comedy.

Don Cutter, the lead, was played by Russell Alkire, while the feminine lead, Lucille Marcy, was played by Willene Whitcomb. The supporting cast was: Wing, Elya Bresler; Priscilla, Dixie Lindsey; John Alden, James Hutton; Mr. Hyde, George Dorsey; Lady Macbeth, Robert Walker; Dr. Bunn, Bob Hawley; Mrs. Kluck, Virginia Hughes; Gertrude Finch, Mary-Em Hardie; Mrs. T. A. Finch, Bernita Offerman; Depression, Thelma McCarthy; Artemus Burke, Everett Coffin, and Danny Siletto, Tom Hutchens.

Joan Wallace was in charge of scenery painting, while James Hutton, Peggy Riddle, and Mary-Em Hardie took care of finances. Dick Hathaway was stage manager, while handling the costumes were Margaret Cobett, Dolores Bacon, Thelma McCarthy, Dixie Lindsey, and Robert Walker.
“The Tempest”

ALTHOUGH temporarily hindered by financial difficulties, experienced drama students again carried on the tradition of an annual Shakespearean play with the presentation of “The Tempest”, a comedy. The play was given May 28 and 29.

New dance routines under the direction of Eileen Campbell Shields, were a feature of the production. Cast members in the play were:

Ariel, Madeline Taylor; Miranda, Viola Abbatch; Ceres, Muriel Thomas; Iris, Mary-Em Herdie; Juno, Bernita Offerman; Prospero, Russell Alkire; Ferdinand, Russell Flint; Caliban, Al Bradt; Trinculo, J. Cornelius; Stephano, Tom Hutchens; Gonzalo, Elya Bresler; Antonio, James Hutton; Alonso, John Dicks; Sebastian, Don Clarkson; Adrian, William Koller, and Francisco, Ed Pitts.

One Act Plays

AFTER eliminations lasting three weeks, “Submerged”, directed by Margaret Cole, and “The Duchess Says Her Prayers”, directed by Anna Just were selected as the two final tragedies, and the comedies were “Strings”, directed by Al Bradt, and “Cemetery Moon” directed by Spencer Arnold.

Ethyl Fred won a cup for first prize in comedy acting for her part as the widow in “Cemetery Moon” and Viola Abbatch with the part of “The other woman” was selected as the best tragedienne. Anna Just won the cup for tragedy direction, and Spencer Arnold the cup for comedy direction.

From the nine original one act plays which were submitted three were chosen and presented at the sixth annual open house program on Sunday, April 26. “The Play Goes On”, a comedy by Rachael Campbell, was given first place. Second place was won by Elya Bresler, who submitted “Rendevous at Tahran”, and Anna Just’s “Esprit”, was third.

Art

IN KEEPING with the tendency of the college to become more liberal in its academic program and with the change of status from a Teachers’ College to a Regional State College, the Art department has been giving increased attention to the needs of special art students. Without neglecting the special experiences required by prospective art teachers, the department has nevertheless begun to incorporate material into its courses and to add new courses especially designed to develop the student interested in commercial and fine arts.

As a part of the material of the composition class the students who have studied problems in wall decoration and have actually carried out in true fresco large designs on the walls of the hallway of the department. The reproduction above is an example of some of the fresco work done by students in this class. They have also studied various techniques such as egg tempera and have made practical use of this knowledge.

There have been several new courses added to the department and there will be more to come. There is now an advanced course in design which stresses printing processes and advertising design. There was recently added a course in life drawing and a class in the appreciation of costume and home furnishings, which is just another step toward making art a part of our every day living.
The Varsity Debate squad, coached by Paul Pfaff, speech arts instructor, had a very busy season this year. In all the numerous meets with other teams the Debate squad used the topic of "Resolved: that Congress be empowered by a two-thirds majority vote to override any decision of the supreme court declaring acts of Congress unconstitutional."

The team conducted the San Diego City debate tourney and oratorical contest on December 13, creating interest in debate circles in the city. The Staters defeated La Mayne team of Memphis, Tennessee, to win a gold cup. They attended the Redlands tournament February 8, and later debated in an exhibition held at Pomona. After meeting the University of Southern California on May 14, and Whittier, Caltech, Occidental, and La Verne on the next day, the squad attended the oratory contest at Pomona May 17, and met UCLA May 24 at the Exposition. Most of the meets were away from home.

Managed by Charles Burton, members of the team included: Ernest Hom, Allen Bailey, Lionel Chase, and Lester Wahrenbrock. Mr. Pfaff believed that much more interest was shown in the debate work than there has been in the past.

organiza-
nation that inuenes every woman on the campus, the Women's Athletic Association has had a very successful year, fulfilling its purpose of sponsoring physical and social activities on the campus to an even greater degree than heretofore.

W. A. A. did its part to introduce and orient freshmen women to the campus by giving them a party in the varsity gymnasium in November.
Recreational games of many kinds were played under the direction of Helen Smith; prizes for high scores were awarded, and supper was served.

Three Play Days were held this year instead of the former one. The first was a Hockey Play Day which was held in the fall for a group of San Diego High School players. The two held in the spring continued the W. A. A. program of emphasizing recreational games by offering that type of sport. The March Play Day introduced the college to girls from city high schools and was followed by supper and a program of skits put on by the different schools. The April Play Day was held on Friday of Health Week.
Posters, footprints and other reminders were placed around the campus all week and after the Play Day supper a posture contest for college and high school girls was held.

Badminton enjoyed greater popularity this year than it has previously.
A singles ladder tournament was held each semester, with a new, "streamlined" perpetual trophy donated by W. A. A. going to the winner. At the beginning of the second semester a doubles tournament was held so that the girls would keep in practice; Miss Muriel Bennett and Miss Florence
I. Shafer participated in this one by popular request.

The annual spring Water Frolic was held at the Y. W. C. A. in May. Sorority, non-sorority, and other campus groups entered teams.

An innovation this year is Mrs. Schwob's social dancing class for both men and women. Sponsored by W. A. A., this class was held once a week in the activity room of the women's gym. Individual and class instruction was given by Mrs. Schwob, who built up the group to a large membership.

This year's officers were Janet Franklin, president; Barbara Freeman, vice-president; Janet Hoon, secretary; Helen Smith, treasurer; and Mildred Robertson, representative to the W. G. A. board.

ROBERTSON
Women's Sports

UPON the retirement of Miss Jessie Rand Tannas, for thirty years head of the Women's Physical Education department, Mrs. Marion Schwob became head of the department and Miss Muriel Bennett joined the staff. Miss Florence I. Shafer is the third member of the department.

SWIMMING, under the direction of Miss Florence Shafer, enjoys a larger popularity and a consequently greater turn-out than any other sport in this department. Weekly instruction is given at the Y. W. C. A. plunge for both beginning and advanced students.

Class work included the technique of breast stroke, back stroke, side stroke, crawl, and diving. At the end of each semester the standard life saving test was given by Miss Shafer and those that passed it were awarded Red Cross certificates.
A feature that was taken advantage of by many women students was the free swims donated by W. A. A.

GOLF classes drew an even greater number of co-eds this year than formerly. The practice field was changed from Emerald Hills to Presidio Hills Driving Fairway, and Mr. Al Abrego, manager of the fairway, acted as coach.

An added incentive to improvement was frequent class tournaments with free tickets to the fairway going to the winners.

ARCHERY was popular both in classes and as an after-school sport. Beginners practiced at 20 yards and as their scores improved, practiced at the Columbia Junior range of 30, 40, and 50 yards, or the Senior range of 40, 50, and 60 yards.

The turfed field in front of the physical education building made an ideal practice field. Added interest was given to the sport this year by "small-animal hunts" with painted targets planted about the field.

HOCKEY was one of the most successful after-school sports. Players were divided into upper division and freshman teams, with play-offs providing a major interest. The season was ended with the Hockey Play Day and Spread.

TENNIS classes conducted by Miss Muriel Bennett were among the most popular of women's physical education classes. Stroke technique was taught and practiced on the courts at the end of the turfed field. Basketball, volleyball, baseball, and soccer were other successful sports. A horseback riding class was sponsored by the department, but no credit was given for it.

Emphasis this year has been on recreational sports. Since these games have been growing in general interest, it was decided by the physical education department to try to advance their popularity locally by a pronounced drive in that direction. Equipment for deck tennis, badminton, ping pong, paddle tennis, and handball was available for those desiring it at any time of the day.

Tuesday and Thursday afternoons have been set aside this year for the promotion of interest in these games. Small groups or individuals desiring instruction could receive it then.
FOOTBALL for 1935 was ushered in at San Diego State with a new coach and a type of play which was new to the followers of the Aztec elevens in past years.

However, the Calland-coached men received the plaudits of their followers in two of the best games seen in the city stadium in past years. In one of these bits, the locals turned back one of the favorites in the conference, Redlands, to the tune of 13 to 7. The Aztecs beat the north- emers at their own game with lateral passes accounting for the two touchdowns. In this game, John Butler, stellar all-conference guard, scored the first touchdown of his career when he took a lateral pass and galloped 15 yards to pay dirt.

In another game which stamped the Staters as one of the best teams seen here, the Montezumans surprised more than 10,000 fans by trouncing the strong Loyola Lions in a non-conference game by a score of 6 to 0.

Meeting the Santa Barbara Gauchos in the first game of the season, the Red Devils finished four quarters of play with the Santa Barbarans just where they started, the final count being 7 to 7.

A week later, Occidental came to the city stadium for a conference tilt with the Aztecs and the two elevens battled on scoreless terms during the first half, so closely were they matched. However, coming out for the second half, Bill Anderson's Tigers showed too much reserve power for the Reds and scored after five minutes of play. Final score of the clash was 7 to 0 in favor of the north- emers.

The Calandmen used their newly-found passing power to advantage in a conference contest with La Verne on the local gridiron and were on to a touchdown by Jim McMichael who had intercepted a Leopard pass on his four-yard line. Although beaten 13 to 0 by the conference champions, Whittier, San Diego put up one of its best defensive games of the season against the Poets on the northern field in a night game. The Staters were handicapped by the loss of several regulars through injuries. John Duich proved his ability by doing outstanding work in backing up the line.

The 1935 squad wound up its season in a game with San Jose State on the northern gridiron. Handicapped by the loss of reserve power, the Aztecs went into an early lead but greater power by the San Jose team soon told on the Aztecs who came out of the fray on the short end of a 24 to 9 score.

The outstanding performances of several Staters during the season was recognized. John Butler, guard, who was picked on the all-conference mythical eleven for the third consecutive year, brought further recognition to the college when he was named first string guard on the Associated Press Little All-Americans. This team is selected each year for the purpose of honoring outstanding players in the smaller colleges and universities throughout the country. Only one other Pacific Coast player was named on the first squad. Ed Smyth, end, was selected on the first string all-conference eleven.

The following were awarded letters at the completion of the season:

Freshman Football

Going into action for the first time, the Smithmen journeyed to Imperial Valley where they met the Brawley Jaysee outfit in a night game on October 4. Although hampered by the lights and desert heat, the Babes came out on the long end of a 6 to 0 score.

In their second time out on October 11 in the city stadium, the Staters, after leading the strong San Diego high gridiron for three quarters by six points, were unable to stop a strong rally by the Hillers in the last period. Star, husky Hilltopper, took the ball over for the tying score and converted to win the game for the Cavemen.

In a preliminary tilt to the Varsity-LaVerne game in the stadium October 19, the Frosh eked out a 6 to 0 win over the Sixth Marine Division. A pass, Metzger to Reynolds, was good for 15 yards and a touchdown.

Making their second trip away from the home field, the Papooses met Oceanside Jaysee on the northern gridiron and although threatening to overtake the Beachers several times, superior power spelled defeat for the locals. Final score of the tilt was 27 to 13.

In the last game of the season for the Freshmen, the Staters were nixed out by the powerful Submarine Division eleven November 2 at Sports Field. After holding the Subs on even terms during the first half, the Smithmen succumbed to two drives of the Sea Divers which resulted in touchdowns. Trailing by 14 points, Metzger maneuvered the Staters down to the Sub three-yard line, from where he took the ball over for the locals' only score.

At the close of the season, the following men were awarded their numerals for service on the squad: ends, Robinson, O'Connor, Bucklin, Lund; tackles, Muehlisen, Joslin, O'Connell, Meyer; center, Huffman; guards, Hansen, Nash, Rex; quarterhacks, Metzger, Stone; halfbacks, Bartlett, Reynolds, Galindo, Vanoni; fullback, Scott; and manager, Tom Hutchens.
Varsity Basketball

COACH Morris Gross gave followers of the State College basketball five one of the best defensive clubs in the history of the local institution during the 1935-36 season. Blessed with a couple of “eagle-eye” forwards and a sharpshooting center, the Aztecs put on their best showing of the season in the two closing games played with the Marine Base five of San Diego. The Leathernecks boasted the strongest outfit in local Base history. Playing before a capacity crowd in the State gym, the Marines edged out a 44 to 41 win over the Grossmen on March 6. Coming back the following night on the same court the Aztecs took an early lead and kept up a fast pace throughout the remainder of the game which had spectators on their feet during most of the second half. Final score was 40 to 48 in favor of the Gross-coached men.

In the early part of the season, the famous Broadway Colored Clowns, a barnstorming outfit, fell victims to the strong State five to the tune of 30 to 17.

If experience can be taken as a criterion for the production of championship teams, State College’s prospects for the 1936-37 season are exceptionally bright, with nearly every member of last season’s outfit returning next year. Of the eleven lettermen, all return next basketball season. Byron Lindsley, former Grossmont high school star, in addition to being high point man for the past season and being elected honorary captain of his team, was named by team mates along with Linden Burns, another Grossmont color artist, as the most valuable player on the squad. Burns has been selected as captain for next year.

Both Lindsley and Burns are two-year lettermen and have one more year of varsity play. Jack Fitzgerald, who first played basketball at Point Loma High, took third scoring honors although he only played on the State five from the beginning of the 1936 spring term. Fitzgerald has two more years of varsity play as does Wilbur Kelly, Bill Buehlman, Jim Williams. Jack Anderson, and Ben Palmgren. Lettermen who have but one year left to perform for the Aztec five are Dick Tazelaar, Ed Smyth, and Joe Frame.

Non-lettermen who will return next year are Bill Rossman, Carmack Berryman, Alex Goldie, and Dick Ault. Anderson and Alex Goldie are transfers from Pasadena Jaysee, while Smyth, who earned his letter on the Aztec grid outfit last season, is a transfer from Citrus Junior College. Berryman hails from Fullerton Jaysee.

Although not winning the conference casaba title, the Staters, under the tutelage of Coach Morris Gross, made an outstanding team and individual point record during the 15-game season. However, four of these tilts were non-conference affairs, while the conference games were double-headers.

The Aztecs amassed a total of 526 points during the season as against 498 by their opponents. This averages a fraction over 35 points per game as against an average of slightly over 33 points per game for the opposition. Byron Lindsley, stellar State forward, took high scoring honors for the 1935-36 season, compiling 134 points to his credit or an average of nearly nine per game. Second honors went to Linden Burns, center, with 73. Following are the individual scoring for the season:

I N A SERIES of 13 games which comprised the freshman casaba calendar during the 1935-36 season, the yearlings, under the guidance of Coach Charlie Smith, won eight tilts and dropped five. The frosh, defending champs in the conference, finished this year in second position. However, in points scored, the Babes made an enviable showing, piling up a total of 365 points to 355, the total number made by their opponents. Bud Thompson, center, grabbed high scoring honors for the season with 72 points in 12 games played. However, his points per game average was bettered by Walt Sefton who made 69 digits in 7 games played.

In conference tilts, the Frosh were defeated by Redlands by a 30 to 27 score, won from Whittier 38 to 28, swamped the La Verne team 33 to 21, and split a pair of games with Occidental. The first was won by the Tigers, 47 to 27, while the locals coped the second game, 34 to 28.

During the season the Smithmen met such teams as the Black-Foxe Military Academy, Sweetwater High, El Centro J. C., Grossmont, Ocean-side J. C., Army and Navy Academy J. C., and the Markel-Johnson quintet. The following men were awarded their numerals: Sam Patella, Walt Sefton, William Salvin, Bud Thompson, Leroy Alward, Vernon Heger, Art Metzger, Bill Bartlett, and manager Gene Muehleisen.
All Conference Meet

UNDAUNTED by the fact that the dual meet championship was won this year by the strong Occidental team, Coach C. E. Peterson's track and field performers climaxed their regular season which began with a win over Compton J. C. early in the year, by bringing State the all-conference championship for the second consecutive time.

Although upsets, which had appeared to yield the locals what seemed to be certain points occurred, the Aztecs went on to nose out Occidental, 50 to 47. Whittier came third with 26 points. Ray Day, lanky State hurdler, came through to set a new Aztec record in the low hurdles when he covered the 220 sticks in 23.7. This mark also tied the conference record set 11 years ago.

What had been counted on as a sure first place, the broad jump, went to Yeager of Santa Barbara who handed State's Leland McPhie his first defeat of the season and in doing so, set a new conference mark in the event. McPhie, qualifying early in the day for the broad jump, suffered injury to both ankles in the pole vault. However, his jump in the morning was good enough for second place.

Kenny Ray, State "iron" man, surprised to take the pole vault, making the best jump of his career, winning at 13 feet one inch. Other first place winners for Peterson's outfit were Ernie Viau in the mile, Frank Heryet in the 880, and Gene Kendall, who tied Ogel of Occidental in the high jump.

At the completion of the all conference meet, Coach Peterson named the following as lettermen: Robert Durbin, Frank Heryet, Ernie Viau, Lowell Jones, Russell Alkire, Russell Flint, Ray Day, Kenny Ray, Selwyn Hartigan, Leland McPhie, Jim McMichael, Eugene Kendall, and Charles Lee, and Vernon Fox, manager.

Team members at the completion of the season elected Kenny Ray as the most valuable man on the squad and re-elected Selwyn Hartigan to captain the 1937 team.

Varsity Track

With a group of last year's conference championship squad forming a nucleus for this season's outfit, the State College cinderpath aggregation made a strong showing during the season, winning all of its conference dual meets with the exception of that with Occidental which the Aztecs dropped by a score of 67-13 to 62-23.

The team, led by captain Selwyn Hartigan, ace hurdler, the Staters traveled north to Eagle Rock for the conference relays, an early season meet. Oxy walked off with first honors with San Diego close behind. The locals accounted for their first places, two of which were record-breaking events, one in the broad jump and the other in the 440-yard shuttle relay.

Although no meet scores were kept, the Staters gathered 15 digits in the annual Long Beach Relays held March 16. Competition included some of the best athletes in southern California.

In their first dual meet, the Montezumans showed surprising strength in turning back Compton Junior College, the final score being 73 to 58. Frank Heryet, crack middle distance runner, started off the afternoon's scoring spree with a win in the 880, coming across the finish line in 1:59.8.

The meet was shifted to the city stadium in the final stages of the meet with third place, yielding only to U. C. L. A. and Pasadena. In this affair, Frank Heryet, crack middle distance runner for State, lowered the Aztec mile record when he completely outclassed the field to win by himself in 4:31.3.

In their longest trip of the season Peterson's charges journeyed to Phoenix, Arizona where they competed in the annual Greenerway Relays. The Staters finished only behind the University of Arizona in the final standings and nosed out U. S. C. During the course of the affair, Frank Heryet, crack middle distance runner for State, lowered the Aztec mile record when he completely outclassed the field to win by himself in 4:31.3.

With the all-conference meet out of the way, the Staters traveled to Santa Barbara where the Santa Barbara Relays were held and came out in the best time of his brief career, being taken sixth in the 880, ran in the best time of his brief career, being taken sixth in the 880, ran in the best time of his brief career, being turned in 1:59.8. Heryet placed second in the mile and was timed in 2:06.5.

With only a four-man team entered, the Staters brought further recognition to the college with they placed third in the annual Fresno Relays, one of the coast's outstanding track classics. In winning third, the Staters beat out U. S. C. and the strong Olympic club squad from San Francisco.

In a meet with Occidental which had been postponed once because of rain, Peterson's charges met their first defeat in conference contests when the Tigers won enough field event points to win by a score of 104-1/2 to 42-1/2. The Staters won the 880 and the mile relay.

Meeting La Verne and Whittier in a triangular meet on the local field, the Staters completely outclassed their opponents with a score of 104-1/2 to 42-1/2. For Whittier and 12 points for La Verne. Kenny Ray, sensational sprinter, broke the existing State record for the 220 yard dash, galloping home ahead of team mate McPhie in 21.4 seconds.

Redlands sprinter, had to run the 100-yard dash in 9.9 seconds to beat out Kenny Ray, State sprint star. Nine first places were taken by Peterson's men.

In a meet with Occidental which had been postponed once because of rain, Peterson's charges met their first defeat in conference contests when the Tigers won enough field event points to win by a score of 104-1/2 to 42-1/2 for Whittier and 12 points for La Verne. CINDERPATH artists who performed on the 1936 frosh squad were able to line up but four practice meets in addition to the all-conference meet at Redlands on May 2, but in those four meets, the yearlings demonstrated that this year's outfit was one of the strongest in frosh history.

Meeting San Diego High in their first time out, the Babes took a first place in the relay which won the tilt for State. Final score was 57 1/2 to 55 1/2. Clair Berdel, middle distance star, and Alvin Bucklin, sprinter, took high scoring honors for the day, each winning two events.

In a triangular meet on the Montezuma field, the Staters showed their potential power by taking a first in every event except the relay and winning over the La Jolla and Coronado high schools. Ed Young grabbed four firsts to take scoring honors.

In their third time out, Coach C. E. Peterson's spikers smothered the Herbert Hoover track team to the tune of 69 1/3 to 42 2/3. Berdel of the frosh, ran his fastest mile, coming across the finish in 4:37, exceptionally fast time even for varsity runners.

Grossmont high school was next on the list and succumbed to frosh performers, the final score reading 76 to 28. Berdel and Bucklin again won their favorite events, accounting for four first places between them. Because their relay team was disqualified through a technicality, the freshmen were deprived of their second consecutive conference championship in the annual loop meet held at Redlands. However, the Papooses were but one-half a point behind the winners, Occidental, who had 57 1/2 points. Clair Berdel set a new frosh mile record by easily taking the event in 4:35.6.

Frosh numeral winners were Alvin Bucklin, Sam Patella, Clair Berdel, Lionel Chase, Fred Lamke, Paul Seidel, Edgar Young, Grant Burrows, Elmer Siegel, Milan Juras, Walter Gault, Henry Wiegand, and Lloyd Baskerville.
Baseball

For the first time in five years, the San Diego State College was represented in conference baseball play. During the previous years, the Aztecs were content to limit their activity to meeting local sandlot teams. Increased budget allotments made conference play possible.

Under the guidance of Coach Charlie Smith, the local nine went through a stiff 26-game schedule which included San Diego service teams and other independent clubs in the city in addition to southern conference nines, and tied for first in final loop standings.

One of the hardest hitting teams ever to represent the college performed for the Scarlet and Black during 1936. Mounds duties were divided among Al Churchman, Bill Reaka, and T. S. Walker, with Churchman the ace hurler on the staff.

In addition to carrying the pitching load during most of the season, Churchman was fourth in batting averages at the end of 20 games with an average of .310. Hideo Higashi, second baseman, led hitters with .437.

In conference clashes, the Aztecs showed to advantage. In the first circuit tilt for the Smithmen, the Locals tripped the powerful Whittier nine, 4 to 3 on the Golden Hill diamond. In the second game, Churchman led his team mates to an impressive 14 to 3 victory over the highly touted Oxy nine. The locals literally hit the ball all over the lot.

Traveling north for the first time during the season, the Staters met their only defeat of the season when they dropped a 2 to 0 decision to the conference leading Santa Barbara Gauchos.

Coach Charlie Smith's nine ended its conference play at Redlands University on May 2 by trimming the Bulldogs, 8 to 7. With the seven-hit pitching of big Al Churchman and timely hitting, the Aztecs staved off a last inning attempt by the northerners to cope the tilt.

At the completion of the season the local squad members elected as honorary captains for the season, Al Churchman and Bill Larson. The following were awarded their letters: Al Churchman, Roger Hopkins, Bill Reaka, Hideo Higashi, Glen Garbani, Stan Bume, Bill Larson, Ed Smyth, Jack Yount, Jack Anderson, and Norval Gardner.
Captains

Charles "Sunday" Durland, veteran center, was chosen by his teammates as honorary captain of the squad. For basketball, Byron Lindsley was elected to head the squad for the 1935-36 season, while next year's leader will be Linden Burns. Selwyn Hartigan led the Aztec track squad during the 1936 season. Al Churchman, pitcher, and Bill Larson, outfielder, were elected as honorary captains of the baseball team. Art Metzger was elected freshman football captain.

Clair Berdel, middle distance runner, was chosen to lead the freshman tracksters in the minor sports, Chet Young captained the tennis squad, and George Walton headed the Aztec fencers.

Managers

Walter Harlin served as varsity football manager for 1935 winding up two consecutive years in that capacity. John Dyson took over the duties for Coach Morris Gross' basketball aggregation, while Vernon Fox served in the managerial position for the tracksters.

Freshman managers were Tom Hutchens, football; Gene Muehleisen, basketball. Vernon Fox assumed the job for the freshman cinderpath team. In the minor sports, the following were in charge: Orville Nordberg, fencing; Tom Goodson, tennis; George Saleebey, wrestling; Glen Wirt and Jim Blethen, boxing.

Stanley Bojens, as sports editor of Del Sudoeste, performed a service fully comparable to that of a manager.
Tennis

With his squad seriously weakened by eligibility rulings, student coach Charles Burton had a difficult time molding a tennis team worthy of heralding the return of State to the conference in this sport.

After a series of practice matches, the varsity made its debut at Redlands and was met by one of the most powerful teams in the history of the conference. The Aztecs lost all their singles matches, but were saved from a rout by pulling out two of the three doubles engagements. Score: Redlands, 7; State, 2.

The following day, April 18, they traveled to Whittier for a match with the Poets. With the afternoon well spent, the score stood tied at four matches all with the deciding doubles match yet to be played. With Young and Buehlman enjoying a comfortable lead in the match, Captain Young reached for a high one and sprained his ankle so badly that it was necessary to default the match to Whittier. Score: Whittier, 5; State, 4.

April 25, Occidental came to San Diego and was greeted by a determined squad of Montezumans who took all but one of the six singles matches, and then let down to drop two of the three doubles games. Final score: State, 6; Oxy, 3.

The following men received letters: Bill Buehlman, Clelland Wharton, Chet Young, James Scade, Dick Ault, Carmack Berryman, and Bert Nichols. Numerals were given to the following freshmen: LeRoy Alward, Ernest Casares, Vincent Silva, Norman Seltzer, and Allen Bailey.

Swimming

One of the most outstanding performances of any State athletic team during the past year was that of the swimming team, under the direction of Coach Morris Gross. Because the sport is considered a minor one, the Staters participated in only one meet during the season, that of the all-conference held at the University of Redlands on May 9.

With only four men representing State College, the locals gathered enough points to win second place in the circuit standings, with Occidental, boasting a 17-man team, grabbing first honors with 56 points.

The Grossmen accounted for 30 digits. Charles Scott and Mac Gorton shared high point honors for the season in doing so, each will have his name inscribed on the Colonel Ed Fletcher trophy, awarded each year to the highest scorer.

Scott placed second in the 220 and 440-yard free-style in addition to being a member of the winning 200-yard relay team. Gorton took second in the 50 and 100-yard free-style events. Other point winners for State were Alex Goldie, who was third in the 100-yard free-style and second in the diving event, and Eric Pfleegor, second in the 200-yard breast-stroke.
Golf

With one of the strongest teams in the college's history, the Aztec golf squad won over Santa Barbara and Occidental colleges by overwhelming scores. Under the direction of Coach Leo Calland, the Staters met the Gauchos twice, defeating the northerners each time by a 12 to 0 score.

In a series of matches with the Bengals on the Oakmont Country club course in Los Angeles, the local team drubbed the Oxy players by a score of 9 to 0. At press time, an all-conference match was contemplated, although a definite decision had not yet been made.

Charles Lee, former county amateur champion, led the local outfit and at the completion of the season won over Don Luscomb and Jack Fitzgerald in playoff matches to determine the winner of the Charles Dietrick golf trophy for 1936. This trophy is awarded each year to the outstanding member of the team. The other member of the four-man squad was Lynn McLean. In an effort to promote more interest in the game, plans are underway for an extensive golf program next year.

Prospects for next year's team are bright with several good men coming up from the ranks of ineligible players. Bob Tyson, one of the top notch players in the county, was declared ineligible for team play this year, but will be back for next season's squad. Don Boysen, another ranking golfer, likewise was ineligible, but will report for the team again next year. Only one man will be lost through graduation, that being Charles Lee.

Fencing

With an extra allotment included on the budget for fencing during 1935-36, the sport became one of the most popular in the minor divisions on the campus. Under the direction of Coach Robert Manzeck, both the foils and saber teams met some of the best fencers in southern California during the year.

During the fall, the Aztecs met the Los Angeles Junior College in a match and dropped the decision by a close margin. Following was a match with the San Diego Army and Navy Academy in which the Staters easily won.

Members of the foils team during the fall semester were Alfred Alexander, George Walton, Paul Kraemer, and Russell Alkire. Sabre team members were Harrine Whitney, Orville Nordberg, Roy Harlow, and WALT HARRINGTON.

The spring semester team first had a return match with the Army and Navy Academy and beat out the cadets in a series of close contests. On May 1 and 2, Manzeck's men met Los Angeles Junior College, UCLA, the Hollywood Athletic club, and U.S.C.

Members of the foils team during the spring term were George Walton, James Spore, Paul Harper, and Stanley Hayden. Sabre team members included Orville Nordberg, Harrine Whitney, Roy Harlow, Bill Varney, and James Spore. The team was managed by Orville Nordberg.
Boxing

With the acquisition of new equipment during the spring semester, interest in the boxing classes at State College has taken a decided upbound since February. Classes are held seven hours per week under the direction of student-coaches Jim Blethen and Glen Wirt.

During the past year the boxers have presented bouts on three different occasions, in addition to two cards of inter-class bouts. Some of the best and most willing boxers this year were: Bill Beckett, Ricardo de la Cruz, Bill Ehmke, Magner White, Bob Johnston, Harold Baker, and Fritz Lamke.

Although lacking somewhat in participants during the year, the State College wrestling team with Morris Gross as advisor, and George Saleebey as student coach, engaged in inter-squad competition for the most part in addition to entering the annual A. A. U. county tournament, met the southern California champions from San Diego High School. The Aztec entry marked the first time a State team had entered the A. A. U. tourney.

The locals took third place behind San Diego High and the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. Suke Azumi won second place honors in the 126-lb. class while George Saleebey was second in the 112-lb. division.

Wrestling
Inter-Fraternity Sports

INTER-FRATERNITY sports, always the source of keen competition on the campus, were under the supervision during the 1935-36 season of Al Churchman, who acted in the capacity of athletic commissioner with Coach Marie Gross as athletic advisor to the inter-fraternity council. Eight Greek letter groups competed in the four major sports and four minor sports during the season which began on October 21 with the round-robin in touch football.

No varsity lettermen or frosh lettermen were eligible to compete in the annual contests and a plaque was awarded the leading fraternity in each sport at the completion of the respective tournaments. To the fraternity with the largest number of points at the end of the season goes the Paul Mott trophy.

In the touch football playoffs, top honors were divided by Eta Omega Deltas and the Phi Lambda Xi's with five wins, one defeat and one tied game each. However, because of the tie, the two teams met in a special game and superior power and deception put the Hods in front by six points. Although threatening several times, the Phi Lambda Xi's were unable to cope with the Hods' attack.

Following the gridiron tourney, the eight fraternities went into the basketball playoffs on January 7. Kappa Phi Sigma, boasting one of the best casaba outfits in past years, went through its schedule with five wins and one tie game to clinch first place. Second honors went to Tau Delta Chi and Eta Omega Delta who tied with five wins and two defeats apiece.

The third sport participated in by the Greek letter groups was track and field. With golf and indoor still to be played off as this edition went to press, the inter-fraternity cup was expected to be fought for by the three leading fraternities. Phi Lambda Xi led with a total of 332 1/2 while the Tau Deltas were close behind with 315. Eta Omega Delta had a total of 297 1/2 points.

With golf and indoor still to be played the point totals were:

Inter-Class Sports

ALTHOUGH inter-class activities were confined to a few sports during the year, the enthusiasm aroused in the round-robin affairs will probably result in a more extensive program next year.

Under the direction of Wally Hendrick, the various classes first entered the basketball tournament. After several weeks of play, there was a three-way tie between the seniors, juniors, and sophomores. In a series of playoffs, the sophomore five, coached by Byron Lindsey, won the interclass championship.

Badminton, one of the fastest growing sports in the college, drew a large entry list including some of the best players in the city. Finalists in the singles Eta Omega Delta won the tennis title with a total of 20 points. Tau Delta Chi with 19 1/2 points nosed out Phi Lambda Xi with 18 1/2 points for second place. Delta Pi Beta was fourth.

Although two sports remained to be played off as this edition went to press, the inter-fraternity cup was expected to be fought for by the three leading fraternities. Phi Lambda Xi led with a total of 332 1/2 while the Tau Deltas were close behind with 315. Eta Omega Delta had a total of 297 1/2 points.

Winning in the second singles and the doubles and placing second in number one singles, Eta Omega Delta won the tennis title with a total of 24 points. Phi Lambda Xi with 19 1/2 points nosed out Tau Delta Chi with 18 1/2 points for second place. Delta Pi Beta was fourth.
Cup Winners

To outstanding athletes in the various sports at State College are awarded each year trophies, some donated by interested San Diego business and others given by former students. The most prized award given is that given to the man considered by the coaches as the outstanding athlete in college during the year. This trophy is awarded on a point basis, with scholarship, athletic ability, inspirational qualities, and valuable-ness to the athletic department, taken into consideration.

This trophy, the William Lundberg cup, was donated by four former students at State in memory of William Lundberg, an outstanding athlete who was lost on the Mojave desert while working with the cup donors during the summer months.

This year the award was given to Edmund Smyth and Al Churchman. Churchman was outstanding in football, track, and baseball, while Smyth was outstanding in football, track, and baseball.

The Ren Thompson football trophy, awarded to the most valuable man was won by Ed Smyth. The Jessop brothers trophy for cross-country running was given to Robert Durbin. The most valuable man award in basketball, donated by Paul Mott, was won by Byron Lindsley and Linden Burns. The Fox brothers' most valuable man award was won this year by Kenny Ray. William Buehlman was given the Dolph Muehleisen tennis award.

Mac Gorton and Charles Scott shared honors in the Ed Fletcher swimming trophy. Hideo Higashi was awarded the Linn Platner baseball trophy, given for the man having the highest batting average during the season, while George Saleebey was the winner of the Werner Petersen wrestling trophy. The Charles Dietrick golf trophy was won by Charles Lee.

Organized in the fall of 1932 from a group known as the Council of Twelve, the Blue Key, honorary service organization for upper classmen, is now a member of more than one hundred chapters. The mother chapter of Blue Key is located at the University of Florida.

The motto of Blue Key is "Serving, I live," which has typified the spirit of the group in its projects undertaken this past year, the most important of which were the publishing of the student directory and the continuation of the Blue Key employment bureau.

Continuing its tradition of raising a scholarship fund for a worthy senior woman, Cap and Gown, honorary senior woman's organization, has again given a series of studio teas to raise the needed funds. Innovating a new idea this year, the members sponsored a successful quiet library drive. They also participated in a fashion show this spring.

The membership of the club is limited to twelve senior women who are elected by the previous year's group on the basis of their past service to the school.

A subsidiary organization to the YWCA, the College Y is a campus group open to all women. The aim of the group is toward "creative living," and it embodies all the ideals that are characteristic of its mother organization.

For the past year the activities of the group have chiefly been centered around its monthly supper meetings and weekly open forums held in Scripps cottage, at which race relations were the chief topics for the discussion.

DELVERS

To further fellowship and study among geology students, Delvers, honorary geology fraternity, was founded in 1934. At fortnightly meetings the members have enjoyed social activities and listened to speakers on subjects selected as the theme for a three months period.

During the past year, the members have completed the mapping of the Cuyamaca area, a project begun a year ago. A relief map showing the rock formations of San Diego County was also completed and is on display in the geology museum.

Biology and zoology majors of high scholastic standing are banded together in Phi Sigma Xi, organization for the furtherance of knowledge in biology.
Organized this year from a group of interested students, the group now numbers twenty and is active in doing biological research. All their semi-monthly meetings held in the various member's homes, they have been singularly fortunate in obtaining notable speakers to lecture on recent biological trends.
Several of the members were in the group that went on a research trip into Baja California.

Having its name linked with a large number of service projects this year, Oceotl, sophomore honorary service fraternity, has maintained the precedent set when the group was founded in 1933 and has proven itself one of the most active organizations on the campus. Projects participated in have included the Traditions Court, distribution of megaphones at football games, aiding at all AMS functions, aiding at all AMS functions, and lighting and cleaning the "S."
Pi Phi Epsilon, upper division honorary economics society, was formed in 1933 for the purpose of stimulating interest among the women in the college in modern economic problems. This year they have followed and discussed at their bi-weekly meetings the general theme "Use of Leisure Time as a Social Problem." The monthly dinner meeting is addressed by a qualified speaker on the chosen theme.

TAU SIGMA

Tau Sigma, economics fraternity, was founded May 14, 1930. The fraternity has been especially fortunate this year in having been addressed by many of the leading business men and economists of San Diego. Thus its members have received an insight into present day problems which should prove invaluable in later life. Bi-weekly meetings were held through the year. On May 7th the Annual Founder's Day banquet and alumni reunion was held as a climax to the year's activities.

WESLEYAN FOUNDATION

The Wesleyan Foundation Club of San Diego State College was organized on December 3, 1935, for all Methodist young people of college age. The group meets the first and third Tuesdays of each month for a dinner, business meeting, and program. The officers elected when the organization was founded were: president, Dwight Stanford; vice president, Eleanor Engle; secretary, Helen Clayton; treasurer, Don McVeigh, and social chairman, David Fenn. New officers elected in February were Floyd Burch, president, and Virginia Mills, secretary.

Program for the year included a joint meeting with the Westminster group, a Mother and Father dinner, a mountain trip to the first Methodist church camp at Laguna, and many interesting speakers and entertainers.

Sixteen members of the San Diego group attended the third annual semi-formal benediction of Wesley Foundation club of Southern California at U. S. C. on April 24, 1935.

Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Stone are the faculty advisors of the club and Rev. Myron Inoko is the pastor advisor.

WESTMINSTER CLUB

The Westminster Club of San Diego State college was organized in the spring semester of 1934 by a group of Presbyterian students for the purpose of discussing current problems from the Christian viewpoint. The membership has not been limited to Presbyterian students only, and now there are students of other denominations taking part in the discussions. Supper meetings are held twice a month in Scripps College, with guest speakers and group discussions. This program for the semester presented by guest speakers and group discussions.

Always active in campus activities, the Women's Physical Education Club this year made itself an outstanding unit in State college social life by sponsoring a series of Play days in which they invited high school girls to attend, giving them a chance to become acquainted with the school. They were also the guiding minds behind the April Fool’s day Penny Carnival, which met with unison success. Included among other projects of a more serious nature was the compiling of records on physical education tests given to the girls of the school to aid in determining achievement standards for girls in physical education activities.

The Women's Physical Education Club is composed of both upper and lower division students, although only the upper division members have active status, while the lower division members are regarded as associate members. The group is organized to increase specialized training, to give members a chance to conduct group recreation and social affairs, and to promote the physical education department by work and play.

Officers for the year were: President, Kathryn Willis; vice president, Alice Caragher; secretary-treasurer, June Hasty.

CETZA

Cetza, the honorary service organization for sophomore and junior women, was first organized in 1929. In keeping with its purpose, to further friendship among women students, Cetza has taken an active part in freshman orientation week as well as assisting with Freshmen Frolics, Open House, Playday, and other school activities. Dean Mary McMullen, in the capacity of advisor, has been a constant inspiration to the group.

Officers were: president, Maryanna Peterson; secretary-treasurer, Charlotte Treiber; A. W. S. board representative, Jane Wells; planning committee, Evelyn Henning, Sally Martin, and Margaret Matchinke.
Those who entered the contest were:
Dorothy Armstrong, Dolores Bacon, Maude Baker, Mary Alice Callar, Monica Flanagan,

This first beauty contest was inaugurated in hopes of creating interest in the yearbook before its publication. It served its purpose well, and now we offer the results to you as one of the campus highlights of 1936.

Dear Sir:
From the pictures you sent to me, I have selected first, Miss Pat Rose; second, Miss Marian Stooke; and third, Miss Olive Hockaday.

I have done my very best, Mr. Kennedy, in picking the winners, but I would like you and your associates to realize that it is very difficult to choose a beautiful girl from a photograph. Often the true beauty of a person does not show up in a photograph due to the various methods of lighting used by cameramen. In other words, Mr. Kennedy, I'm trying to get off the spot you have put me on.

In closing let me thank you for asking me to be judge. If my judgement is good, congratulate me; if not, it must be the photographer's fault.

Kindest personal regards and best wishes.

Sincerely,

Dick Powell

SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS
THE Inter-Sorority Council climaxed its affairs this year with the Inter-Sorority-Fraternity dance at Hotel del Coronado. Events of the first semester included an inter-sorority tea at Scripps for all freshmen women and a banquet at the U. S. Grant hotel honoring new pledges. During the second semester, the traditional pledge dinner was again held at the U. S. Grant. Phi Sigma Nu was awarded the scholarship cup both semesters.

Officers of the council were Dorothy Armstrong, president; Charlotte Treiber, vice president; Virginia Chadwick, secretary; Betty Kearns, treasurer; Maryanna Peterson, A. W. S. representative; and Mrs. Alvena S. Storm, advisor.

Inter-Fraternity Council

UNDER the direction of its officers, a successful and active year was completed by the Inter-Fraternity Council. Officers were Howard Turrentine, president; Barney Carman, vice president; Paul Kraemer, secretary; Charles Scott, treasurer; Al Churchman, athletic representative; and Dean C. E. Peterson, faculty advisor. Two representatives from each fraternity made up the council.

Golf, touch-football, track, volleyball, tennis, indoor baseball and swimming were included on the Inter-Fraternity sports calendar this year. Under the able direction of Al Churchman, the events were efficiently and accurately run off.

Tau Delta Chi was awarded the scholarship cup with a grade average of 1.3. The idea was originated this year to present to each semester's winner of the perpetual cup, a plaque to remain permanently in the hands of the winning fraternity.

The Inter-Fraternity Council cooperated with the Inter-Sorority Council in staging the annual Inter-Fraternity-Sorority dance at Hotel Del Coronado.

DELTA PI BETA

(With no apologies whatever to Omar Khayyam)

Wake! for the Sun, who scattered into Flight
Street lamps before him from the Ways of Night, Drives Night along with them from Heav'n and strikes
The Tower turrets with a shaft of light.

Before the phantom of False morning died,
Methought a Voice within the Caff loud cried,
"When all the tables are prepared within,
Why nods the drowsy breakfaster outside?"

And, ere the bell rang, those who stood before
The Caff shouted, "Open then the Door!
You know how little while till Eight O'Clock,
And then till Lunch it is three hours and More."

Now the New Term reviving Old Desires,
The thoughtful Undergrad to Quad retires,
Where Frats have made some little Green to grow,
And one can smoke without the veto, "Fires!"

The grds indeed are gone with all their dough,
And the scholarship cup where none may know,
But still a bubble fizzes on the Coke,
And many a ring the Undergrads still blow.

Come, buy a coke, and have another fling!
Plenty of time to study when the Spring
Semester comes. Terms have the meanest way
Of flitting—and the Term is on the Wing.

Whatever campus you may light upon,
Whether your Course or light or heavy run,
The Coke of Life keeps fizzing drop by drop,
The Cigs of Life keep foiling, one by one.

Each morn a score of Troubles brings, you say.
Yes, but where go the cores of Yesterday?
And this first six weeks' Ex that brings the Flunks
Shall Clerkson take, and Corman, too, away.

Well, let it take them! What have we to do
With all the great Alumni who are through?
Let Prex and Peteey bluster as they will,
Or Andy call to supper—heed not you.

With me about the row of Tables strown
That just divides the Nameless from the Known,
Where fame of Prof and Student is forgot—
And peace to Prexy on his swivel-Throne!

A Book of Boners underneath the Bough,
Some menthol'd Cigs, a pack of Cards, and Thou
Beside me looing in the sunny Quad—
Oh, College, it were Paradise, and how!

Some for the Glories of the Grid, and some Sigh for the straight A Average to come.
Ah, take the "snaps" and let your Credits go,
Nor heed Requirements and Curriculum.

Look to the blooming Co-eds round us, "Lo,
Laughing!’’ they say, "Into the class we blow,
At once the sweet excuses of our smiles
Charm, and their Treasures on the Prof bestow.’’

And those who burn the Midnight Tungsten late,
And those who hit the hay, or keep a date,
Alike to utter ignorance succumb,
Called on in classes that begin at eight.
Electric Rates

Among the lowest in the Nation...

Since January 1 this territory has enjoyed electric service at rates "AMONG THE LOWEST IN THE NATION". This statement is based on an official survey just released by the United States Government, and is an important contributing factor to community growth and development.

The millions of visitors to our new 1936 Exposition will be impressed by these and other facts, and it is fortunate that the series of rate reductions covering the past several years, places us in such a favorable position to attract neighbors. The San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric Company is happy to have cooperated in this regard, and considers it is a partner with its customers in all programs for community building. In return we hope you will help us spread the good news of low gas and electric rates along with other advantages among our Exposition visitors.

Why, all the Grinds and Whizzes who discussed Of Studying for a Life Work—they are thrust Into Blind Alley Jobs, and take for Wage Whatever Capital decrees they must. Myself when green did eagerly frequent Lobby and quad, and heard great Argument About it and about, but evermore Came out more muddled far than in I went. With them the seed of Wisdom did I sow, And in my own nut hoped to see it grow, And this was all the Harvest that I reaped—"We come in beanies, and in mortar boards go."

"WASTE INTO WAGES ... JUNK INTO JOBS"

That was the Text to which I had no Key;
That was the Prof through which I could not see.
Some little talk awhile of B and A
There was, and then 'twas only C and D.
Books could not answer, nor the Grads that mourn
Their wasted days, of pleasant Ease forlorn.
Not even the Registrar, although she spent
An hour upon my record, and some SCorn.

Then to the lip of this aluminum urn
I leaned, the Secret of my Course to learn:
And Lip to Lip it murmured, "While you're here,
Drink: flunked out once, you never may return."
And if the Coffee you drink, the Nut you Dunk
End in what All begins and ends in-Flunk.
Think then you are Today where Yesterday
You were—at least your mind is clear of Junk.
Why, if the Stude can fling his Books aside,
And in his Chevvie on the Highway ride,
Were't not a Shame, were't not a Shame for him in the dull Classroom prisoned to abide?

'Tis but a Tent where take their one-hour's rest
Somnolent Students by a Prof addressed.
The Bell rings, and the emptied Seats receive Still other Students, and official Pest.

And fear not lest Commencement closing your Account and mine, should know the like no more.
The local High Schools from that Bowl have poured
Millions of Bubbles like us—and even more.

When you and I are from the Annual passed,
Oh, but the long, long while the School shall last.
Which of our passing or our flunking needs
As the Sea's self should heed a Pebble-cast.

Would you that precious Four Years' Rest-Cure spend
About the Secret—quick about it, Friend!
A Hair perhaps divides the False and True;
And upon what, prithee, may Grades depend?

A Hair perhaps divides the False and True;
Yes, and a single Pony were the Clue.
Could you but find it, to the B. A. then,
And peradventure to the Master's, too.

But if in vain, down on the classroom floor,
And at the Clock, and the unopened Door.
You gaze Today, while you make C's, how then,
Tomorrow, when the quarter-Tests are o'er?

Waste not your Hour, nor in the vain Pursuit
Of A's and B's endeavor and dispute.
Better be happy with a passing Grade
And Ex-Curric. Activities, to Boot.

You know, my Friends, with what a brave Canoe,
My Sophomore year, I took to cleaning House.
Cut out old beaten Study from my Scheme,
And took more cuts than any Prof allows.

For "Learn" and "Get-By," though with Rule and Line
And "Pass-and-Flunk" by Logic I define,
Of all that one should study, I was ne'er
B plus in anything but Apple-Shine.

Ah, but my Computations, fellows,
Have broke the Terrors of the True-False.
'Twas only lopping from the Gradient Curve
The pitous F and the impossible A.
Strange, is it not, that of the Hundreds who Before us passed through the Halls of Learning,
Not one returns, on Founder's Day, to tell
Any sure Scheme that we have not tried too?

The Themes and Notebooks of the Wise and Learned,
Who passed before us, and as Seniors burned,
Are handed on from Year to Year, and still Though copied fair, they are with D's returned.

Yesterday this Day's Exes did prepare,
Tomorrow's Silence, Triumph, or Despair.
Cut! For you know not what you'll make, nor why,
So let's light up, and show 'em if we care.

And this I know: whether the Fag alight
Kindle to Wisdom, or consume me quite,
One Whiff of it within the Hash-shop caught
Better than in the Classroom lost outright.

Ah, with the Finals my fading Term provide,
And when, perchance, I have from Cramming died,
Then lay me, shrouded in Blue Books,
By some not unfrequented Canyon-side.

That even my buried Ashes such a snare,
Of Getting-By shall fling into the Air,
As not an Underclassman, passing by,
But shall be overtaken, unaware.

And much as Coles have played the Idfidal,
And robbed me of my needed Credits.—Well,
I wonder often what the Caff boys buy
One half so precious as the stuff they sell.

Would but some Angel Prof, before too late,
Hold up the yet unfolded Roll of Fate,
And make the stern Recorder otherwise
Put down our Grades—or quite obliterate,

Ah, Friends, could you and I with Prex conspire
To grasp this dumb Curriculum entire,
Would we not tear it into bits—and then
Re-write it nearer to the Heart's Desire!
REGISTRATION, OH, REGISTRATION!
